A Certain Rise—In Taxes

This story originated in Albany, New York. But it could be any American city. It is about taxes.

Both state and local taxes will have to be substantially raised to meet rising costs of government in the years ahead—especially the next six years.

Local government costs will rise even more than those of the state.

Taxes are what we use to buy civilization.

Taxes buy schools, roads, lighted streets, police protection, health, old-age pensions, care of the needy sick, libraries, fire protection, the armed services to guard and defend us—these and many more things (we cannot, and would not wish, to do without) are bought by taxes.

It may force the federal and state governments to revise their complex and interlocking tax systems. Or, it may see the nation turn increasingly to federal aid in education—as we already have done for roads, hospitals, public health, airports, the mail service—and other necessities of modern life.

Bird Report

In New York Gov. Harriman appointed a commission to study the present needs . . . and to forecast the future.

It is possible in some fields to look into the future with accuracy.

We know, for example, what the birth rates are each year. We can project the number of children who will be entering the first grade, high school and college with astonishing lack of error. We know, too, what the demands on water systems, pavements, parks, sewerage, police and fire protection, sanitation collections, and other municipal and state "services" will be on the basis of population growths.

Gov. Harriman, a proved administrator, selected a committee. As chairman he chose Frederick L. Bird of Dun and Bradstreet. It was a nonpartisan committee.

The committee did not recommend as to new taxes. It simply said that a great amount of new revenue would be needed. It urged every effort should be made to increase government efficiency. It further suggested attempts to secure more revenue from existing taxes before moving into new fields.

This is one of the conclusions. It applies to every city in the United States, large or small, which has experienced increases in population. Local government costs by 1961 are expected to be at least 60 per cent higher. School district increases, in the more populous areas, will be up as much as 81 per cent by 1961.

Those are dismaying figures . . . if one cares to view them pessimistically.

Exciting

They also are exciting and thrilling—indicating growth, increased consumer demands to sustain employment, more persons needing homes, more expansion for churches, services and so on.

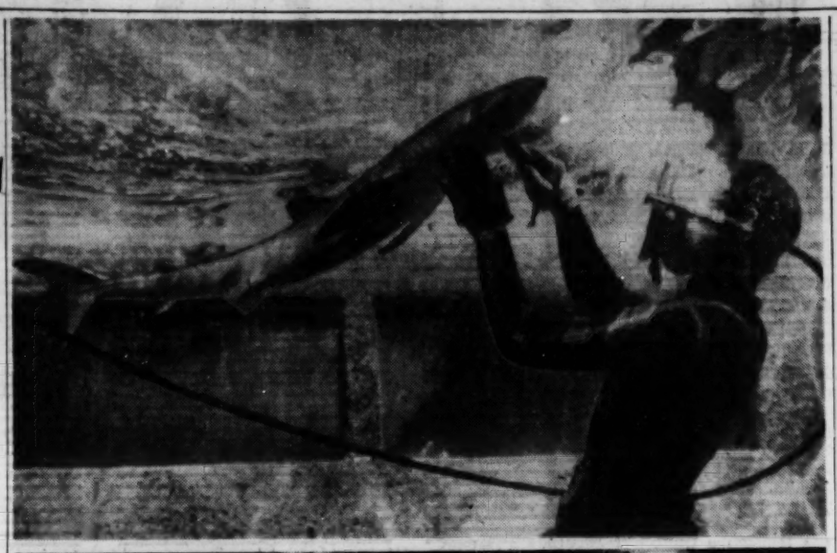

The commission recommended something which all states could, and should, accept. It was that a substantial percentage, based on need, be set aside each year from current tax revenues for capital construction. Cities and states have a backlog of need which dates back to the depression years. Local government needs are increasing faster than those of the state.

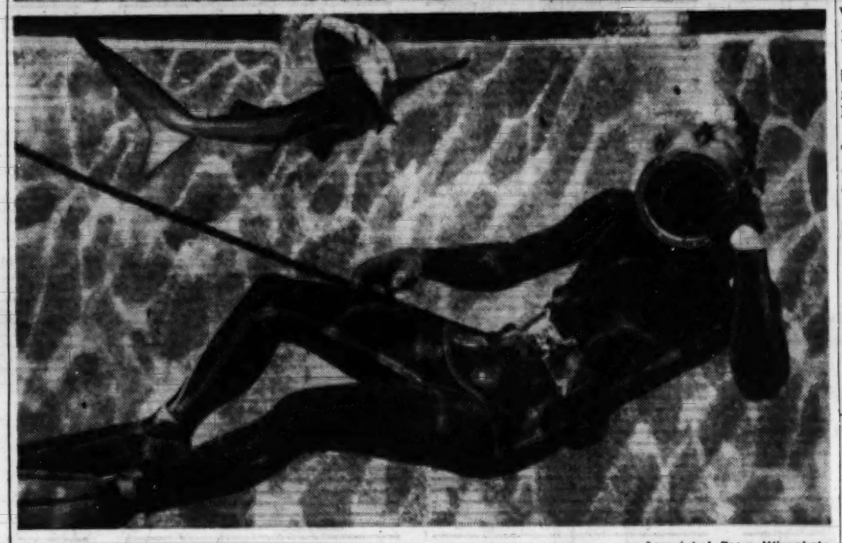

All local governments within the state of New York DOUBLED their expenditures between 1946 and 1952, the commission found.

New York City for some time has had a temporary sales tax—in addition to the state tax. The commission recommends this be made permanent.

This is an event casting a shadow ahead for us all. We don't want to do it—but we will pay more taxes. . . . The time for study is now. Taxes are not going down. Politicians cannot lower them. They can use them more efficiently.

With taxes we buy civilization.

FROGMAN FEEDS SHARK, GETS AWAY WITH ROTH HANDS

Diver Bill Tensley prepares at left to pry open the jaws of a shark and force-feed it with mackerel at the Marineland of the Oceanarium at Palos Verdes, Calif. The great blue sharks (this one appears a bit young) refuse to eat in captivity, possibly because of copper sulphate in the water to kill algae. So divers, wearing wire mesh gloves to protect their hands from the sharks' teeth, jam the mackerel down the sharks' throats. Photographer Paule Calvert of the Los Angeles Times got these shots with an underwater camera. Tensley had to recatch the shark after it swam away holding the mackerel, right, and finish jamming the meal down.

Red Ships Moving on Nanchishan

Chiang Planes Rush To Attack

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI Formosa, Tuesday, Feb. 22 (AP)—Official reports said Communist war vessels were heading toward Nationalist-held Nanchaishan island today and Chiang Kai-shek's warplanes were rushing out to attack them.

It was not reported immediately whether the Chinese Reds already had attempted a landing.

An official source, however, advised, "Watch Nanchishan."

NEAR MAINLAND

Nanchishan, a three-square-mile island, lies 120 miles north of Formosa and about 20 miles off the Red mainland.

Since the withdrawal from the Tachen Islands, the Nationalists consider it their northern defense anchor.

It has an estimated garrison of 5,000 regular troops and guerrillas.

Earlier, the air force reported that Chiang's warplanes carried their attacks against Red China's buildup base on the Taishan Islands to the south of Nanchishan into the fifth straight day today.

Roaring out from Formosa bases in the dark, Nationalist attack-bombers in four waves pounded military installations and Communist vessels in the area.

The air force headquarters reported this score:

First wave—Two vessels of unspecified type sunk and another possibly damaged.

Headquarters said all Nationalist planes returned to base.

The air force claimed it had probably damaged a second hostile submarine yesterday in the same area.

A communique said the submarine was attacked near Pingtan Island in Formosa Strait, 110 miles south of the Taishans where a submarine was claimed sunk by dive-bombing planes Friday.

POUND VESSELS

The Nationalist said planes dealt blows for the fourth straight day yesterday to Red ships reinforcing the Communist garrison on the Taishans.

Pilots of two planes returning from the Taishan attack said they spotted the surfaced submarine, strafed it until it submerged. They went after it again when it resurfaced.

The submarine report, if true, indicates that Russia may have turned over some of its Pacific submarine fleet to Red China.

$20 Income Tax Cut After Jan. 1 Is Voted By House Committee

Democrats Push Passage This Week

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—The first step to put a Democratic tax cut through the House of Representatives was taken today.

The Ways and Means Committee voted 15 to 10 for a bill to grant a reduction of $20 per person, effective next Jan. 1.

The measure will go to the House floor Thursday and probably will be passed there before the week's end.

HOW PLANNED

The change would operate in this way: A man would be allowed in making up his income tax return for 1955 to deduct from the amount he must pay $20 for himself, $20 for his wife and $20 for each of his children or other dependents.

The committee acted to carry out the wishes of the House Democratic leadership over the vehement opposition of the Eisenhower administration and over Republican cries of "politics!"

The committee's chairman, Rep. Jere Cooper (D-Tenn), estimated that the reduction would amount to $2,090,000,000 for a full year.

FISCAL FIGURES

He said, however, that it would lower federal revenue by only $815,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning next July since it would apply only to the last half of that fiscal year.

The government's spending and receiving year runs from June to July, while the income tax is paid on the ordinary calendar year.

Treasury Secretary Humphrey had fought the bill in a two-hour closed session.

He emerged to assert, to reporters and before television cameras, that the Democrats were abandoning "responsible financial management of the federal government" and were "playing fast and loose

Gunman Struck Fast, Lone Survivor Says

By KEELER McCARTNEY

A crazed gunman who shot down four persons and then turned the gun on himself "appeared like a shadow" and "struck like lightning," the lone survivor of the incident said Monday.

Mrs. Anna Padgett Cone, 45, secretary for a Chattanooga, Tenn., manufacturing firm, was reported recovering satisfactorily at Grady Hospital from a bullet wound which pierced the abdominal wall and from bruises about the shoulders and left hand.

Mrs. Cone's boy friend, Ira D. Lane, 49, of Chattanooga, manager of a shoe store at Lexington, Tenn., was killed as were Mrs. Ella Warren, 48, 849 Mentelle Dr., NE, at whose home the shooting occurred, and John Verlyn Booth, 49, 1120 Lanier Blvd., businessman, attorney and former state legislator.

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTOR

Alton N. Treadaway Sr., 46, of a Blue Ridge Ave., NE, address, a construction electrical contractor, who police said entered the home with a .22-caliber automatic, died soon after being admitted to Grady with a bullet wound in the right temple.

Mrs. Cone, still weak from the wounds, was able to give her first coherent statement about the incident Monday.

"I flew down from Chattanooga Saturday to do some shopping," she told Sgt. L. L. Hause and a Constitution reporter.

GAME SUNDAY

"Ira—Lane—came over Sunday to take me back.

"We met at Mrs. Warren's because she was a friend of mine.

"I was in a back bedroom trying on some new dresses that I'd bought. I looked up and there he—Treadaway—stood in the doorway with a pistol in his hand.

"I'd known him only casually

Report Envisions Growth to 1980

By ALBERT RILEY

Blueprints for the planned, orderly growth of a metropolitan Atlanta area of 1,250,000 population by 1980 were presented Monday to Mayor Hartsfield and the city's Board of Aldermen.

More than six years in the making, the plans are incorporated in the Metropolitan Planning Commission's newest report—a dramatic, 60-page publication entitled "Now for Tomorrow."

How can Atlanta meet its growing pains in the next 25 years? For the answers, based on a detailed analysis of the Metropolitan Planning Commission report, Staff Writer Albert Riley is preparing a six-part daily series which will begin Sunday.

The report contains specific recommendations for action which governmental agencies and private industry can begin now to meet the future needs of the rapidly growing area.

Ike's Road Plan Foes Unyielding

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower briefed congressional leaders today on the multi-billion-dollar highway program he will submit to Congress tomorrow. He failed to shake strong Democratic opposition.

The President held an hour-long meeting at the White House with top Democratic and Republican members of the House and Senate Public Works Committees. It was the first bipartisan session called by Eisenhower on a solely domestic issue.

A Democratic spokesman said the meeting was "harmonious and nonpolitical" but that it did not change Democratic opposition to Eisenhower's plan for financing road building. The Democrats opened hearings today on their own program.

The White House said the oft-postponed program definitely will be sent to Congress tomorrow. It indicated Eisenhower's message will follow closely the recommendations of his special advisory committee, headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

The committee recommended a 10-year program, costing an estimated $101,000,000,000, to supplement present federal aid funds.

Judge Blocks Officer's Story of Ferrell Threat

BIRMINGHAM, Feb. 21 (AP)—A former Phenix City policeman was stopped today from telling a murder trial jury that ex-prosecutor Arch Ferrell threatened him shortly after the killing of vice foe A. L. Patterson.

The prosecution attempted to bring that testimony into the murder trial of former Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller. Judge J. Russell McElroy ruled it out until the state shows a connection between Fuller and Ferrell.

Both are charged with the gun slaying of Patterson, the Phenix City lawyer who had been nominated for attorney general on a vice cleanup platform.

JURY OUT OF ROOM

Chief Prosecutor Cecil Deason put the ex-policeman, E. J. Peoples, on the stand late today, and sought to question him about an alleged threat from Ferrell. The judge refused to let the question in at this time.

With the jury out of the courtroom, Deason said Peoples would testify that he had remarked within the hearing of Fuller and Ferrell that the Patterson slayer had to be "somebody who knew him, and who knew how to get out of there."

Deason said Peoples would testify he got a telephone call later that night from Ferrell saying, "he (Peoples) was messing around in the case, and if he didn't quit he wouldn't live to mess around any more."

STORY OF GAMBLING

Peoples told state highway patrolmen shortly after the killing that he had been threatned with death if he didn't "stop talking" about the murder. A highway patrol guard was put around his home for a brief time. Later Peoples moved to Wichita, Kan., where he lives now.

The former policeman did give the jury a word picture of the many gambling dens which flourished at Phenix City, and said he had been ordered by superior officers to stay out of some of them.

Earlier in the day the prosecution was stymied in an attempt to show that a witness accused Fuller of

Gene Reunited With Twin Sis, Needs 'Miracle'

Gene Swafford, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Swafford of 207 E. Francis Ave., came home from an examination at Johns Hopkins University Hospital in Baltimore.

Experts there diagnosed the child's ailment as "a hole in the upper part of the heart." Gene's father said physicians reported surgery is not advisable now because the heart imperfection is "too close to a valve."

The father said doctors told him they "are trying to develop an operation that will save children like Gene," and to bring the child back in six months.

Rains Forecast Tonight; Colder, Fair Wednesday

Occasional rains and colder temperatures are forecast for Atlanta Tuesday night after another partly cloudy "rather warm" day.

The weatherman said Wednesday will bring clearing skies and colder weather.

George Opposes Tax Cut Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Sen. George of Georgia said tonight he was opposed to the tax cut voted today by the House Ways and Means Committee.

George, who sponsored an amendment last year raising personal income tax exemptions, said "the condition of the country is not what it was a year ago when I proposed an exemption increase. Unemployment is not as large as it was then."

State Legislators Were Paid $350,712

The State Treasury Monday had paid a total of $350,712 in salaries and allowances to Georgia legislators and attaches for the 40-day session.

The pay of legislators was the same this year as in the previous year—$30 per day.

Young Bandit Shamed Out of $10 by Quarry

A would-be bandit with a soft heart is waiting to see whether he will be held for a crime.

DeKalb County police reported a lanky youth Sunday entered an Avondale service station with a rifle.

"Don't move. This is a hold-up," he is said to have announced.

Lewis C. Clark, an employe of the station, told the youth, "you are probably in better condition than we are. We don't have any money."

Whereupon the youth pulled a $10 bill out of his pocket and threw it on the counter saying, "Well, here, if you are in that shape, take this." Then he ran.

DeKalb Ptl. W. E. Rawlins and B. R. Varner, with Avondale Estates Ptl. H. Summerall, arrested the youth nearby.

He later told Det. Lt. Ted Wayne, "I work at a service station myself."

When the youth's age was determined as 15, he was turned over to juvenile authorities. Juvenile officials and police Monday were puzzling over whether the youth really had committed a felony.

Liver Likes Mambo?

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 21 (AP)—Police here have jailed a "healer" who undertook to cure liver ailments at $21.75 a treatment by making her patients dance the mambo, it was announced today.

Mardi Gras Funsters Give Police Bad Time; 15 Hurt, 100 Arrested

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 21 (AP)—Mardi Gras revelry boiled over into riots injuring at least 15 persons early today and police sent double shifts into the keyed-up French Quarter tonight to prevent new outbreaks.

Tear gas, liberal use of night sticks and the arrest of more than 100 rowdies broke up the riots about 4 a.m. after they had raged since midnight. It was the worst overflow of carnival spirit in this city of fun since a nude woman rode a horse up Canal street several years ago and set off pandemonium.

Before today's disorders were over, police had been bombarded at close range with ice cubes, broken bottles and glasses.

The eventful night began when police arrested Lawrence Morrison, 18, of Arlington, Va., after he kicked in a car door in the 700 block of St. Peter street, deep in the narrow streets of the French Quarter.

He shouted, "I'm a federal agent. The police are putting me in jail for nothing."

Revelers swarmed to Morrison's aid and soon the street was teeming with thousands who bombarded police to blues tunes and Dixieland.

Soon, another riot broke out in front of the Dixie Bar of Music at St. Peter and Bourbon, and a third uprising flared later at Pat O'Brien's Bar, a popular tourist spot in the same 700 block of St. Peter street where the original trouble started. Individual fights broke out throughout the Quarter.

In the melees, one officer lost the seat of his pants and had to retire from the field of battle; another was bitten on the arm, lighted balls of newspapers were thrown into the crowd, and one celebrant grabbed a cutlass from a wall in Pat O'Brien's and injured several persons before he was put out of commission.

Police estimated at least 15 persons, including seven policemen, were injured seriously enough to require medical treatment. Of the 100 arrested, all but 28 were turned loose without charges. The 28 were booked.

Nixon Gives Costa Rica Peace Bid

Is Messenger For Nicaragua

By PAUL P. KENNEDY
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Feb. 21—Richard M. Nixon, vice president of the United States, arrived in Costa Rica today. He bore assurances from Gen. Anastasio Somoza, President of Nicaragua, that so far as the latter is concerned there will be no further tensions and disturbances along the Nicaraguan - Costa Rican boundaries.

The assurances were given by Gen. Somoza to Nixon and Henry F. Holland, assistant secretary of state for Latin-American affairs.

"GO HALF WAY"

Nixon said here:

"My impression is that Gen. Somoza is willing to go half way to resolve the common differences despite an admitted deep-seated personal antagonism against Col. Jose Figueres.

"I am looking forward to asking President Figueres for these same assurances and I am confident he will be willing with the same statesmanship to let bygones be bygones and work for stability in the Central American area.

"I think every American government, including our own, will receive the assurances of Gen. Somoza and those we hope to get from President Figueres with satisfaction," Nixon added. "The U.S. government is determined to work increasingly through the Organization of American States to achieve stability in this area."

SEEKS PEACE

The vice president said earlier the chief objective of his Caribbean tour is to attempt to settle the Nicaraguan-Costa Rican quarrel. He said all chiefs of state thus far visited have expressed concern over the conflict.

Miss Bentley Also Lied, Turnabout Witness Says

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Turnabout witness Harvey Matusow, who calls himself a liar, testified today he believes Elizabeth Bentley also gave false testimony about Communist activities to congressional investigators.

Matusow injected Miss Bentley's name in the course of a day in which he testified under oath that he lied when he said Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) was pro-Communist and Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) was "a tool of the Communist party."

Matusow, self described ex-Communist and FBI informer who has attacked the patriotism of many, ranging from senators and churchmen to Communist party leaders, was before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

In saying "Elizabeth Bentley, I believe, gave false testimony," Matusow added from the witness stand:

"I am basing that on conversations with Miss bentley and not on hearsay."

Miss Bentley has been a key government witness in investigations with Miss Bentley and not on hearsay."

Miss Bentley has been a key government witness in investigations and trials involving charges of Soviet-directed espionage in the United States.

Matusow did not elaborate on his statement about her testimony—which got a vote of confidence in advance from subcommittee Chairman Eastland (D-Miss).

Eastland said in a statement opening today's hearings—a statement sharply questioning the reliability of Matusow's recent disclaimers—that hundreds of documents have shown Miss Bentley's account of Communist espionage to be "flawlessly truthful."

Matusow's loud "I do" when he was sworn in as a witness today brought a ripple of giggles and snickers from the packed audience in the Senate caucus room.

Chairman Eastland asked the witness to name those he had "attacked unjustly for money."

Matusow replied: "Sens. Mansfield and Jackson. There are many, there are hundreds."

Matusow said he had been paid $600 to $700 for speeches against Jackson in Washington State and had picked up $1,200, $1,300 or $1,400" for speeches denouncing Mansfield in Montana.

He said he couldn't recall who paid him in Washington but that the Montana money came from a man named J. H. Morrow.

Matusow said Morrow was connected with "a Republican-front organization" named the Montana Citizens for America Assn.

This aroused Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), who said Matusow may be trying to boom the sales for his forthcoming book "False Witness." Jenner asked: "Could it be that you are lying today?"

Matusow replied that today he was telling the truth.

Soviet Theater Parade Headed by Khrushchev

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW, Feb. 21 (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev, the Soviet Union's party chief, headed a parade of Soviet dignitaries into a Bolshoi Theater front row stage box tonight.

Premier Marshal N. A. Bulganin and other government figures including former Premier Georgi Malenkov were in the party for a performance of White Russian folk music and dancing to which all Western ambassadors were called in suddenly.

Reporters asked why.

One well-informed Russian-speaking envoy said "it was obviously so we would all see who sat where."

Khrushchev was followed in by Bulganin, Dep. Premier Lazar Kaganovich, and Anastas Mikoyan, former minister of trade but still a deputy premier. They took seats in the front row of the stage box in that order.

Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was visible only dimly in the second row.

Malenkov sat in the rear of the box, partly hidden by the red brocade curtains. He chatted part of the time with President Marshal Klementi Voroshilov who sat near him. The rest of the time they sat watching the semiprofessional performances of the singers and dancers.

MOSTLY GOSSIPING

Deputy Premier M. G. Pervukhin sat a little behind the front row group and spent most of his time leaning over gossiping with Mikoyan.

The Western diplomats were intrigued that the whole government group took the box by the stage instead of the huge, elaborate government box in the center of the theater which has been used up until now.

Khrushchev's precedence in the entry to the theater box, ahead of Marshal Bulganin, apparently was intended to point up the same emphasis Moscow radio gave party-army relationships. There had been some speculation in the West after the recent Kremlin shakeup that army figures were gaining more power.)

Royal Pair To Dance At U.S. Ambassador's

LONDON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will be guests of honor at a housewarming dinner dance tomorrow at the residence of U.S. Ambassador Winthrop W. Aldrich.

The house once was the property of Barbara Hutton. But the gold faucets and swimming pool are gone now. Aldrich bought the place, called Winfield House, from Miss Hutton last year. It was redecorated and converted at a cost estimated at $250,000.

Mrs. Aldrich's secretary said 300 guests were invited to the party.

years ahead, the report recommends the development of specific residential, industrial and commercial areas, construction of a network of expressways and arterial highways, development of additional parks, and measures to decrease automobile traffic congestion downtown through increased use of public transit.

The development of governmental, cultural and medical centers also is urged.

And one of the most dramatic phases of the report recommends further development of the downtown area, including the air rights over the railroad yards in the present Terminal Station area as well as the downtown railroad gulch.

Redevelopment of slum areas and creation of "fringe" parking area facilities around the "pedestrian-transit" core of downtown Atlanta is suggested.

The report, "Now for Tomorrow" will also be filed with other governments in the metropolitan area, including the City of Decatur, and Fulton and DeKalb Counties.

The Board of Aldermen took no action on the comprehensive report Monday. But each member got a from Fulton and DeKalb counties and, as ex-officio members, the mayors of Atlanta and Decatur and the county commission heads of Fulton and DeKalb.

Robert H. White is chairman of to the zoning committee, headed by Hamilton Douglas, for study.

The Metropolitan Planning Commission was created by the Georgia General Assembly in 1947, when local leaders began to realize the necessity for planned growth to avoid the mistakes of past and haphazard development of the area.

Financed by the local governments, the commission is purely an advisory board with powers only to recommend, not to carry out the decisions it reaches. To make use of the plans, the local governments and private developers have to pick up the ball and go with it.

The 14-man commission includes four members from the City of Atlanta, three members each the commission. Its technical staff was first headed by Phil Hammer and is now headed by Robert Stuart as director.

Engaged in technical studies since 1949, the staff has advised local governmental and private agencies in many programs. It published in 1951 its first report entitled "Metropolitan Atlanta, a Factual Inventory." This report set forth basic patterns and growth trends of the area.

In 1952 the commission published its second report, "Up Ahead," a regional land use plan for metropolitan area.

The new report, "Now for Tomorrow," is a detailed plan for action now to carry out the recommendations. A nontechnical report in laymen's language, it is backed up by a mass of highly technical studies available to governments, business and industry.

Truck Route Ordinance Covering All Is Proposed

By HERMAN HANCOCK

Enactment of an ordinance which would place all truck routes under one regulation rather than on a "piece-meal" basis was urged Monday.

The proposal for a "package" ordinance came from Ald. Douglas Wood, who, with Ald. James E. Jackson, opposed a proposal by Ald. Ed A. Gilliam that ordinances establishing the first truck routes should be prepared and submitted for approval separately.

Gilliam, chairman of the aldermanic board's traffic, parking and transit committee, told the board meeting that Traffic Engineer Karl Bevins and others had agreed with his ideas.

Wood and Jackson asked Gilliam it he thought any efficient system could be adopted if trucks were barred from certain arteries.

Gilliam said he did not believe this "would be fatal."

Other aldermen joined Wood and Jackson in expressing doubt. Wood insisted the truck route measure should be offered as a "package" and not on a "piece-meal" basis.

Aldermen also:

1. Approved installation of 18 modern new electric lights in Piedmont Park, asked improved policing, agreed to pay $25 reward for convictions of persons destroying or damaging lights and authorized the Georgia Power Co. to post signs warning against damaging the equipment.

2. Greeted Dr. Horace King, member of the English Parliament from Southhampton. Mayor Hartsfield presented King, who stressed the importance of Atlanta's record in slum clearance and other activities.

3. Urged CAA approval of an Eastern Air Lines, Inc., petition for a plane route from New York via Atlanta to Mexico City.

4. Welcomed C. A. Keeley, clerk of Essex County, Windsor, Ontario, Canada, who is in Atlanta en route to Miami on vacation.

City Hall Anniversary

Atlanta's city hall will observe its 25th anniversary of service Tuesday. A quarter of a century ago, Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, 1930, retired City Hall Supt. L. Glenn Dewberry directed the official transfer of the city government from the old building at Forsyth and Marietta streets to the present structure.

City Pay Raise Plan Is Defended

By BERT SPENCER

The fulton County legilsative delegation Monday proposed defended salary raises for high Atlanta officials against criticism by the mayor and aldermanic finance chairman.

A delegation spokesman said increased salaries of 54 city officials would put them in line with other city employes who got an across-the-board raise this year.

WON PASSAGE

At the same time, Fulton Sen. G. Everett Millican said, the delegation "fought hard for" and won passage of legislation he estimated would bring an additional $700,000 into the city treasury this year.

Speaking for the delegation, Millican defended the raise plan against criticism by Mayor Hartsfield and Ralph Huie, chairman of the Board of Alderman's finance committee.

The senator said the delegation sought to raise only the salaries of city officials at the department head level who had been left out of the city's average 5 per cent pay increase.

UP TO BOARD

The raises, if they are not killed by the aldermanic board, would cost the city about $30,000. The across-the-board raise for other employes will cost $509,114.

The pay raise plan did not include the mayor or members of the Board of Aldermen.

First Huie and then Hartsfield criticized the delegation's action, saying that such raises, with the possible exception of changes in elected officials salaries, should be made by the city government.

CONSIDERED FAIR

Millican said the delegation backed raises of top city salaries two years ago to what it considered a fair ratio to pay received by general employes.

When the aldermanic board failed to include these positions in its 1955 raises, the senator said, the delegation assumed the board wanted those raises legislated "as they have been for the last 25 years."

Personnel Board Quits At East Point

Resignations of the personnel board and Jackson W. Huff, personnel director since July, 1952, were submitted to the East Point City Council Monday night.

Disagreement with Mayor A. A. Roberts over a legislative bill which Huff said "would have strengthened East Point's personnel system and removed it from politics" was cited as cause of the wholesale resignations.

Huff accused Mayor Roberts of favoring the personnel biil and later asking Fulton Rep. Hoke Smith to kill the proposal.

Besides Huff, those submitting resignations were Andy J. McCoy, Roy Gunter, A. W. Etheridge, Paul A. Glover and J. G. Stith, all of whom were appointed last year.

Huff said that after Mayor Roberts had told Rep. Smith he did not favor the bill, the legislative delegation advised the board they would not "legislate to settle matters in disagreement by elected officials of the City of East Point."

In his letter of resignation, Glover charged the mayor's actions as "a breach of faith" and said he felt "no further good can be accomplished under the present administration."

Mayor Roberts said he had not asked Rep. Smith or any other legislator to kill the personnel bill or any other bills sought by East Point.

He said that he had asked Smith to introduce the bill after Huff had informed him that Smith had heard that Roberts was opposed to it. He added that his next knowledge of the bill came from reading the Atlanta newspapers, noting that the bill had not passed.

Incorporation Faces Plan Body

The North DeKalb Planning Council is expected to vote on an incorporation proposal at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Doraville's Flowers Park Community Center, G. A. Wehunt, president said Monday.

Other business to come before the meeting, for which DeKalb Rep. James Mackey will be guest speaker, includes appointment of a nominating committee for new officers to be elected at the group's annual banquet on March 22.

Pot luck

Here's the best news in pots and pans since the first adventurous designer (name unknown) boldly put a red handle on a lowly skillet. Since then, kitchen ware has gone from glory to glory—decking its derriere with glowing copper, painting its face every color of the rainbow. And now—in what is surely the ultimate in glorification—behold snow-white enamel pots and pans hand-decorated with blossoming herbs. You may choose basil, balm, borage, cinnamon, nutmeg, vanilla or wintergreen designs flowering in full color on everything from skillets and sauce pans to tea-kettles and coffee pots. Decorations are baked on, so smoke or fire won't mar them. What's more they'll come straight from stove to table and sit down with your Sunday Spode and Gorham. Best pot luck of all, these beauties are only 3.98 to 8.50 in Davison's Gift Shop, in its gala new location on our Third Floor.

Last Thursday at high noon, at least a dozen people on our sidewalk saw this with their own eyes, so don't just take our word for it. A plump, silvery-burnished white pigeon swooped suddenly out of the nowhere and made a neat, two-point landing at our Peachtree entrance. The bird haughtily ignored the swarms of shoppers streaming in and out and waddled slowly, with the dignity of a mink-clad dowager, up to our glass door. There she (or he—don't pin us down) glued an inquisitive beak to the glass and fixed beady, black eyes on the glow and glitter inside on our Street Floor. Our outsize feathered friend stood there for a full minute, then as if bored with it all, waddled back to the sidewalk, revved up and took off with a mighty whirring of wings.

P. S. Didn't we have your size, dear? Might try our Half Size Shop next trip.

Last Saturday at sunset, bells, carillons and chimes rang out all over Atlanta—from stately-spired houses of worship and humble frame missions. The message of the bells was the age-old one that all men are brothers. In joyous and hopeful medley they ushered in Brotherhood Week, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews. It is to be devoutly hoped that their message will echo far beyond the little span of this week as all men of good will strive to practice in their lives what they pray in their hearts . . .

"America, America,
God shed His grace on thee
And Crown with good thy brotherhood

State Study Commission Must Provide A Blueprint for Solution of State's Ills

In the pastoral peace and quiet left by the departing General Assembly, it is possible to give full attention to the record of that body.

Basically, it seems to have been a Legislature which was somewhat stunned at the outset by the news it had to deal with a state rapidly moving toward a financial crisis. Gov. Griffin, of course, was aware of the almost desperate prospect. But there is evidence members of the House and Senate were genuinely surprised and, in a very real sense, nonplussed to the point of indecision.

Georgia is already in need of a great deal more money.

By July the need will be acute.

It is acute because of a number of factors, of which education is the major one.

Georgia's population continues to grow. Her birthrate, happily, is among the highest in the nation.

There is no escaping the fact we must educate our children.

Despite the progress made—and there has been a substantial advance—Georgia's children still do not receive the educational advantages offered children in most of the 48 states. We cannot afford to handicap them any more.

So it is that one moves immediately to the single most constructive act of the legislative session.

It was the creation of the State Study Commission?

The Legislature was wise not to try to come to grips with the problems now. This was the better part of wisdom because the uncomfortable fact was the Legislature didn't know enough about the state's needs to move into the field of remedial legislation. Its members are not alone in this. It is apparent the people themselves do not comprehend the growth of population, the continuing concentration of it in urban centers, and the really imperative needs for more revenue.

All of us, legislators, and citizens, must spend the next 12 months educating ourselves to our needs.

The state cannot afford to stand still. The phrase itself is a fiction. It is not possible to stand still. To attempt it, is to retrogress. The dynamics of our peculiarly successful economy is based on continued ability to provide more jobs, more efficient techniques in mass production of goods at prices the people can afford. This requires more and more education as the techniques themselves become more specialized.

So, while none likes increased taxes—it seems we must have them. But also we must be sure that we do not waste or spend the revenue unwisely.

First, let the study group find ways to make administration of government more efficient so that we will obtain maximum values in our spending. Secondly, we urge the committee to determine if more revenue can be obtained from existing taxes before moving into other fields. The need for business management methods is demonstrated by the fact that in 1930-32 the state budget was about $25,000,000. It is now about $230,000,000.

Georgia cannot go backward. Going forward will cost more—but will produce more. Efficient governmental processes must be more and more a part of government. Perhaps the time has come when we must bring into government economists and managers to provide efficient management for the elected officials. Few of them are experienced in handling vast sums of money.

Members of the Study Commission cannot fail to be aware that the state's future largely rests on their determination and wisdom.

On the asset side, in addition to the Study Commission, these seemed best:

The Farm Market Authority is an important step. For years Georgia has suffered from dictatorial administration of the Agricultural Department. In our opinion harm has been done the state's development in this field. The Authority to create markets is a progressive step.

The Rural Roads Authority also is a forward decision.

Increase in the workingmen's compensation payments was long overdue. Georgia's workmen still will be treated less well than those in most of our states. But it was a beginning.

The bill requiring that property taxes be paid on automobiles before the tag may be purchased will help county treasuries. Sale of tags at the county courthouses, while a minor change, is one which will make the purchase more convenient.

Placing the Minimum Foundation program on a semi-annual basis for its pupil count was a commendable move. No appropriation was made, but this, while a hardship, likely was wise. Here again the Study Commission's need is obvious.

A bill to bar publication of names of those arrested for sex offenses and drunk driving, was defeated. We like to think Rep. Groover, its author, now is glad it was. While occasionally an injustice may seem to be done, we go along with J. Edgar Hoover, of the FBI, that sex offenders need the brightest spotlight of publicity. Failure to publish their names would throw about most of these hideously dangerous persons a cloak of protection. Drunk drivers, too, have contributed so much of death and sorrow they hardly seem worthy of so much consideration.

Rep. Groover earned the gratitude of the people by helping kill a confused bill which would have given the GBI the right to carry out subversive investigations and to keep confidential records. Misuse by politicians of even FBI and confidential Senate and House committee records, is warning enough of what would happen in state politics. Certainly any subversion must be rooted out. But, we have confidence in existing law enforcement agencies from the attorney general's office on down, to do the necessary job.

Under liabilities would come failure to pass a workable home rule bill. Also under this heading was the price floor for cigarettes—a bill which the Supreme Court has four times rejected. Courts in other states have also banned the so-called fair-trade laws. We cannot but wonder whence comes this influence which caused the Legislature to repeat what the court four times has denied.

Local "omnibus" bills, thrown in late, are an affront to good citizenship and government. Let us find a way to end this nefarious practice.

In our form of government it is fair to say legitimate lobbying is a necessary function. But, since not all of it is ethical or honest, the people certainly have a right to ask control and identification of lobbyists and their employers. Failure to provide such legislation is avoiding a public service.

The loan shark bill is a bad one. It allows exploitation of poverty. Our democratic form of government will continue to suffer until we forthrightly provide some way for poor persons to obtain emergency loans without being consumed by money sharks.

The toll road bill repeal was a campaign promise. Now that it has been kept the next Legislature, with the governor's help, should enact a better one to replace it. Toll roads, whatever the objection to them, are an inevitable part of the future.

The firemen's pension belongs somewhere in between a liability and an asset. Firemen should have pensions. But the fact they were persuaded to raise a fund of $8,000 to be used "to pass the bill" was an ill-considered act and merited the condemnation which the legislators themselves gave it.

This, we believe to be a reasoned, nonpartisan evaluation of the record.

The big job is ahead.

We must have more revenue, efficiently managed, for an advancing Georgia.

Welcome Mat Is Out For Class AA Cagers

Sixteen teams, representing the top basketball talent in the state, will be welcomed to Atlanta Tuesday for the 34th annual Class AA tournament. From then until Saturday the eyes of all Georgia will be on the City Auditorium as these fine youngsters attempt to capture the most coveted of prizes—the state championship for 1955.

The Constitution again is pleased to sponsor the event in cooperation with the GHSA. It is an activity which young and old alike can enjoy as participants or spectators.

To those who are accustomed to thinking of the Saturday football spectacle as the most popular of spectator sports, it comes as something of a shock to realize that basketball is way out front. In small towns all over the land, in rural communities and in the cities, basketball attracts more players and more spectators than any other competitive game.

Literally hundreds of thousands of youngsters who lack the brawn and other qualifications for football can and do play basketball. For the few who make the team there are many thousands who just play for the fun of it. The game itself contributes greatly to the physical development and health of the nation's boys and girls.

The tournament this week will be exciting. Most teams will be out to upset Columbus' championship Baker High School five—the obvious favorite. But whoever wins, all the youngsters will have a good time and so will the spectators. All Atlanta is urged to attend as many games as possible.

Fellowship Based On Love and Trust

A mother told me about her son who had completely missed the way. Again and again he had broken her heart. What could she do? I told her that though she could do nothing else, she could keep on believing in him, that the most powerful force in any person's life is the faith that someone has in them. When we lose that, we lose everything.

There is a story of Rupert Brooke, the great poet. He was about to sail from Liverpool. After he had gotten on board he became aware of the fact that just about everyone there had someone there on the dock waving good-bye. He felt a sudden loneliness. Then he spied a little boy, just a street urchin, down on the dock. He went back down the gangplank and found that boy.

"Do you want to earn sixpence?" he asked. "Sure," said the boy. "Well," Brooke said, "here it is. When the ship leaves, stand here and wave to me."

For several years now it has been my privilege to speak in many places over the country. Occasionally someone asks me why I don't spend all of my time in that way. But above all things else, I want to be pastor of a church. I want to have my own congregation, I want to belong to somebody and feel that they belong to me.

It means everything to have a congregation of people who claim me as their pastor. They know my faults and weaknesses, yet they pray for me and believe in me. That is worth more than anyone can measure. One of the saddest lines in The Bible is the word of the Psalmist, "No man cared for my soul" (142:4).

In Robert Sherwood's play, Abe Lincoln in Illinois, Abe is speaking of Ann Rutledge: "And then—when I saw her, I knew there could be beauty and purity in people, like the purity you sometimes see in the sky at night. When I took hold of her hand, and held it, all fear, all doubt, went out of me. I believed in God. I'd have been glad to work for her until I die, to get for her everything out of life that she wanted. If she thought I could do it, then I could."

We hear a lot said about gossip in the church and criticism of each other, but actually there isn't much of that. The very basis of the Christian fellowship is that people love and trust each other. And the better we know Christ, the more we believe. Someone has said, "In the company of sinners, He dreamed of saints." To one who had missed the way, He said, "Neither do I condemn thee: Go, and sin no more" (John 8:11).

States Urged to Solve Own School Problems Without Turning to Washington for Help

Americus — The "cupcake and fudge-coated" education of the "progressive" school, called "life experience" projects, is the frosting on the nation's ever mounting bill for education. These "sugar-coated skills" are becoming increasingly difficult for the taxpayer, parent and otherwise, to digest.

Let each state, county and city support its own schools, without government ownership or indebtedness.

First thing we know, instead of separation of church and state, we will have government education, (as by a Russian state) or by dictatorship instead of by God.

'Ike Was Justifed In Reducing Army'

Atlanta—I wish to take exception to the editorial dealing with the proposed reduction of armed forces. A hope was expressed that the Congress will prove to be more farsighted than the "temporizing administration."

The names of Eisenhower, Russell, Vinson, Ridgway and Radford were mentioned. While all five are men of unquestionable integrity, proven ability and high purpose, the President has an advantage of greater sources of information. This coupled with his known practice of subjecting all important problems to an impartial and expert study before reaching a decision makes me believe that he is well justified in suggesting the reduction in the armed forces.

Ports Authority Plans Continued Progress

Waycross — I read the editorial regarding the Ports Authority and as a member of the authority, I wish to thank you for some of the expressions contained therein.

James D. Robinson Jr., chairman of the first board appointed by Gov. Talmadge, managed to place the operations on a business basis and keep it that way so long as he remained chairman. D. Leon Williams, director of the authority, who has been with it since its origin has developed all of the income producing business which enabled us to get private financing. Neither of these gentlemen are publicity seekers, but the success of the Ports Authority is directly attributable to their efforts and due credit should be given them.

It is my fondest hope that the Georgia Ports Authority shall be able to continue to render a real service to the State of Georgia.

Hoodlum Outbreaks Can Get Out of Hand

Palmetto—This latest outbreak of the teen-age group of hoodlums really puts us up with the big town thugs—juvenile delinquents they call them. How much longer are we to withhold the names of these boys?

You know and I know they will keep doing these things as long as they know they are not going to be exposed. Wake up Atlanta before this thing gets out of hand.

No Grass Grows At Auditorium

Guess whom we met as we drove to Blakely on the weekend? It wasn't the Goat Man. He's astir, though. He drove his ruminants from Jeffersonville to Houston County the other day on a test run preliminary to his annual trek up the country. It was spring we ran head-on into in southwest Georgia. The season had its outposts in Atlanta last week. There was the driver on the Virginia-McLynn bus stopping to install one of those air-cooled seat pads. There were the boys at Grady High playing catch on the campus. There was Charlie Roberts of our sports staff getting warmed-up about the statewide, Constitution-sponsored Class AA basketball tournament which opens today at the Atlanta Municipal Auditorium.

Yes, spring has had its scouts out in north Georgia, but the main line of the advancing season is in the peanut and pecan belt. On the weekend, the peach trees and the pears were in blossom, the tractors were working the soil for the goober seeding and Jim and Buck Grist, 11-year-old sons of the Dunbar and Richard Grists respectively, were tenting out in the back yard.

At the Pickle-Ramsey "Deep South" motel, gentlemen named Pratt and Woodcock from Ithaca, N.Y., were setting out on an after-breakfast bird hunt. And at the restaurant across the road a foursome from Griffin led by John Cheatham, the textiles maker, was fortifying itself on peanut ham preliminary likewise to giving the Early County quail fits. Everyone in the southwest Georgia empire, incidentally, is happy about Eisenhower having come to hunt, except the birds.

The spring line moves our way at maybe a hundred miles a week. The Aikman safari crossed into Phenix City, following a bus carrying on its rear a placard reading "National Crime Prevention Week." The jonquils were open on the Alabama shore, but not the Blue Bonnet or the Silver Dollar. Even the stamp window at the post office was closed. That could have been because the time was Saturday afternoon. Nor was there a slot machine stamp vendor in the lobby.

Northward up the border and on the Georgia side, at Ida Cason Gardens all was dormant along the Azalea Trail. The activity was on the golf course. In Georgia the game is not seasonal. The green is indeed a permanent pasture. Our state rightfully boasts the advantage — golf and grazing the year around.

There will be no grass growing at the Municipal Auditorium the rest of the week. Not with 16 basketball outfits, four of them from Atlanta, fighting it out for the AA crown.

I'll see you there at 3 p.m. today. That's the tip-off!

Communists Seek Union Label Cover

WASHINGTON—The labor unions which were expelled from the CIO because they were Communist-dominated are now trying to barter and badger their way into the American Federation of Labor in an effort to acquire a new cover of respectability.

From recent editorials in the "Daily Worker" it is clear that directions have gone out from the Communist Party that now is the time for the expelled unions to renew their efforts to get under the umbrella of one or another of the big labor organizations—and as soon as possible.

There's a reason for this urgency on the part of the Communists.

The reason is that time is rapidly running out on Communist-front and Communist-infiltrated organizations in the United States. This means that if the expelled unions do not find shelter soon the law will catch up with them—the law requiring such organizations to register and thus to function openly for what they are.

The circumstance is that the attorney general is now authorized, under the Communist Control Act of last year, to institute proceedings before the Subversive Activities Control Board against "Communist infiltrated organizations" as well as against "Communist fronts" and "Communist action groups."

Obviously the unions—such as the United Electrical Workers, the United Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, the American Communications Association, Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and the International Fur and Leather Workers—which were voted out of the C.I.O for the very reason—that is, Communist infiltration—that the new law requires such unions to register, are going to feel the force of this new law as soon as the attorney general can assemble all the needed evidence.

But the expelled unions have a potential life-line which they hope to grab, if they can possibly make it. That potential life-line is the provision in the 1954 act which gives any union affiliated with the A.F. of L., the C.I.O., the United Mine Workers, the Railway Brotherhoods something near to immunity. It is written into the law that such affiliation gives a presumption of non-Communist infiltration, whatever the past record.

There is every reason to believe that George Meany, president of the A. F. of L. and designated head of the super-union, will be an alert and earnest opponent of the Communist-infiltrated unions. But because of the independence of the separate units of the A. F. of L., it cannot be taken for granted that its national leadership can prevent the Communists from getting in.

Nothing could be more harmful to the American labor movement nor to the A.F. of L.-C.I.O. merger than if the Communists are allowed to use either as a seeding ground for subversion—and that's what the Communists are now up to.

James Reston

There's Little Cheer Over Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON—The administration found very little to cheer about today as it surveyed its foreign policy after 25 months in office. There were some encouraging spots. The Italian situation was improved over a year ago. Southern Vietnam, regarded as almost hopeless four months ago, looks somewhat better. Officials are consoled, too, about what they now call "the mess in Moscow," but these things are disturbing:

1. The rearmament of Germany through ratification of the Paris and London Pacts, which officials put in the safe category at the start of the new year, is back on the official doubtful list.

2. France is in a state of political paralysis again, with Edgar Faure trying to form its 21st government since the war.

3. Japan, in the midst of divisive election, is increasingly restive, increasingly anti-American and increasingly determined to east its economic and political problems by "normalizing" its trade relations with Communist China and its diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union.

4. Britain and India are at odds with Washington over U.S. policy toward the defense of the off-shore Chinese islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

5. The Chinese Communists are determined not to discuss a cease-fire in the Formosa Strait, with the Chinese Nationalists at any conference inside or outside the United Nations. And the Chinese Nationalists are equally determined not to sit down with the Chinese Communists.

The internal stresses on the conduct of foreign policy between the executive and the legislative branches are less abrasive than in the 83rd Congress, but the administration is not very happy about the outlook either in Europe or Asia.

It was hoped here that 1955 would be a year of marked progress, for 1956 is an election year, not only here but in Germany, France, maybe Britain and Vietnam.

In fact, the big election test to see whether Southern Vietnam remains free or goes Communist will come just before the U.S. presidential nominating conventions next year. Consequently, the administration's objective was to make a record for peace and stability this year before the elections in various parts of the world complicate the process of negotiation.

None of these things, however, has forced a revision of the official assumption that a major war will be avoided—not even the angry stalemate over Quemoy and Matsu.

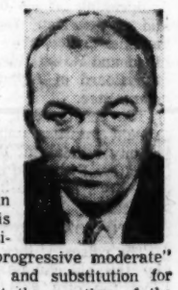

This could change overnight, for the Communists have the power to make war there, but no dramatic attempt to seize these islands is expected in the next two months. The Chinese Communists are scheduled to attend the first big conference of Asian and African powers in Indonesia late in April and it is assumed in Washington that they will not want to go there as aggressors.

Nevertheless, when Washington's policy is not going well in Germany and Japan—the two major objectives of Soviet policy—officials here feel uneasy.

So the government is doing what almost all governments do when a variety of factors raise doubt about the future: It is merely carrying on about as before. It is not alarmed enough to change its defense estimates, and not confident enough to move out into any new fields.

Ike's 'Confession' Was Long Overdue

WASHINGTON—Two events with proximity in time, though not in distance, dramatized what is becoming more clear here daily. One was President Eisenhower's public abandonment of the "progressive moderate" tag for his administration's domestic objectives and substitution for it of "dynamic conservatism." That occurred at the meeting of the Republican National Committee.

The other event the same day was the formal registry as a Democrat in Oregon of Sen. Wayne Morse, once a Republican, later an Independent, and one of the first senators to declare for Gen. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination. In a speech at Portland announcing his change of party, the controversial senator said "in the last two years there has been repeated evidence that reactionary forces have taken over the Eisenhower administration and the Republican Party leadership on most domestic issues, and particularly in the field of natural resources."

Neither man was aware of what the other was doing and saying the same day, one here, the other at the far corner of the country in Oregon. But there is certainly a relationship of cause and effect.

Any objective and experienced observer here would agree that the President's confession of conservatism was accurate, if overdue. Sen. Morse undoubtedly would agree that the manner, at least, in which the change to conservatism has been accomplished has been "dynamic," for it has been done by men of energy and determination who knew what they were about.

In the field of natural resources, which Sen. Morse singled out specifically, the intention to relax federal regulation and protection and favor powerful private interests became clear at the very outset of the administration. It has proceeded according to plan, right down to the ultimate in the attack on TVA through the Dixon-Yates contract.

While the huckstering goes on out front about "social welfare," one of the chief barkers being Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell who talks off his own cuff, the real powers in the administration are recognized in two businessmen and industrialists, Secretary of Treasury George Humphrey of Cleveland, and Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, of Boston.

At the very outset, Secretary Weeks let it be known that, as the champion of business which he proclaimed himself to be, he was going to do something about the federal regulatory commissions, some of which deal with natural resources. He has. All are now safely packed, from top to bottom, by men drawn from the very business and industrial interests which supposedly are to be regulated in the public interest. The consumer already is beginning to feel the pinch, and he will feel it more and more.

Secretary Humphrey leaves fewer tracks as he goes quietly about his chosen task of making this a true "business" administration.

So it was about time for the President to clarify his administration's aim. And for Sen. Morse, feeling the way he does, to move into the other party.

The Beginning of an End

Since you associate the football art of kicking extra points with the golf art of putting on a mental hazard premise, you may say that Mike Souchak was bound to be a good golfer. But there's nothing in his book that gives him the right to sit up there ahead of Ben Hogan and Sam Snead and Byron Nelson and the rest of the great guys who've walked with the gods.

There was nothing behind Souchak but the determination to play golf. That goes so far, but past that a fellow needs one of those angels to guide the ball and strike the match to his own personal skyrocket. Where Souchak got it, nobody seems to know, for up around North Carolina they have to start with football to give you a run-down on the boy.

Bisher

Last time I saw Souchak perform as an athlete, he was trying to kick a football through the goal posts in Duke Stadium while 50,000 mental cases screamed from the stands. Charlie Justice's North Carolina was whipping Duke for the fourth straight year. The score was 21-20 and nobody was sure how many seconds were left to play.

That was just it.

The referee, an impetuous individual named J. D. Rogers, had ended it a few minutes before. The crowd had swarmed on the field. They had to call out the cops to send the customers back to their seats, for another official had finally got word to Rogers that a few seconds were left. This was important, for Duke had the ball inside the North Carolina 25.

When order finally was restored and the teams lined up again, Souchak might as well have tried to kick a watermelon. The pitch was gone, the edge was off. So was the center's aim, and Souchak's last attempt never got above his shoe tops.

—He Was Never No. 1 at Duke

Souchak was a good end. He was great at extra points. He kicked 76 out of 88 his three varsity years at Duke. This was in order, for he came to Duke as a guest of the management. His scholarship called for football participation. It didn't say anything about golf.

Souchak never was No. 1 at Duke. Lewis McLennan, the boy from Atlanta ranked him his first two years. He was just a popular kid, Souchak was, so they elected him captain of the team in '52. Still he wasn't No. 1.

You figured it took a lot of raw guts when he struck out on the circuit two years ago. A fellow's got to eat and pay his motel bill while he follows the little white ball. There was a fellow back in Durham, a furniture man named Lehman Couch, who sponsored his grub and board. He believed in Souchak financially.

You may say that Couch was one of three people who weren't surprised when the scores came in Monday morning and Souchak sat up there leading the Texas Open with his 60-68-64-65—257. The other two were Commissioner Wallace Wade of the Southern Conference and Coach Dumpy Hagler of the Duke golf team. They'd all said that Souchak would make it, but I don't think that either one had the gall to say that this ex-football player had the game to establish himself as the greatest scorer of them all.

—The Balloon Never Went Up

Wade was Souchak's football coach. Sometimes they were golfing partners. Souchak was the second athlete that Wade ever advised to turn pro. The other was Ace Parker, who turned out right well.

There was good golfing blood in his family. His oldest brother is a pro up around Pittsburgh. This is where all the Souchaks began, in a suburb called Berwick. Another brother named Frank is an amateur of some quality himself. One year he went far enough in the National Amateur to get an invitation to the Masters.

Obviously, though, Mike is the player in the family. Frank got him interested in golf. After he left Duke, Mike worked some with Craig Wood at Mamaroneck, N.Y., before he took out on the circuit. After he shot that 60 in San Antonio, you waited for the balloon to go up. When he followed with a 68, you said he was cracking. When he returned with a 64, you said this was a dying gesture. When he won with a 65, you muttered something about those tiddlywinks courses and the light air out in Texas.

But Hogan and Snead and Demaret and Nelson had played the same tiddlywinks course in the same Texas air and had never scored 257 for 72 holes. You'd have to say the old extra-point kicker wouldn't have to eat off Mr. Couch much longer.

Every time I hear of a hot first round like Souchak's 60, I think of a big, fat boy from Syracuse who had himself a buzz at Jacksonville a few years ago. The guy shot a phenomenal round and took the lead. He was interviewed and photographed while the big pros got in their cars and drove to town. The next day the big unknown was paired with Bobby Locke. He toured the county on the first nine. The jitters had him. He blew to an 88 and I've never heard of him since.

SCRIBES AND SPORTSCASTERS TO PICK MVP IN AA MEET

A committee of sports writers, telecasters and broadcasters covering the Constitution-sponsored state Class AA high school basketball tournament this week at the city auditorium will select the meet's Most Valuable Player and an all-tournament squad of 10 players.

The MVP selectee will be presented a trophy after Saturday night's finals by Furman Bisher, Constitution Sports Editor. Charlie Roberts, Constitution Prep Editor, will present awards to all-tourney selectees, and Sam Burke, GHSA Executive Secretary, will present team trophies.

The MVP trophy was won in 1954 by Baker High's Jimmy Lee, who will compete again this year, and in 1953 by North Fulton's Wade Mitchell.

Tech Nips Vols, 83-77; Kimmel Bags 29 Points

Guard's Total Is Highest By Jacket in Two Seasons

By LARRY FOX

Georgia Tech froze Tennessee virtually out of contention for the Southeastern Conference basketball championship with a rousing 83-77 victory in Tech Gym Monday night.

Bobby Kimmel scored 29 points to lead the Jackets, marking the highest total for a Tech player since Pete Silas hit 39 against Furman two years ago.

The loss was Tennessee's fourth against seven victories in the league and dropped the Vols further off the pace set by Kentucky and Alabama. Tech, which won its third straight game, is now 6-6 in the SEC and has a very good chance of finishing in the first division.

The Jackets used their deep freeze in the closing stages of the hard-fought game, not taking a shot from the floor in the last six minutes.

The freeze started after Kimmer's drive-in layup had made it 79-69 with 6:10 left to play and only three crip shots by the Vols in the last minute and five seconds closed the gap.

But Gary Phillips and Jess Carroll, the latter subbing for Joe Helms, who fouled but with less than two minutes gone in the second half, kept hold of the ball and the lead with great clutch play.

Here's how close the game was: With 2:15 to go in the first half, Tennessee held a 37-34 lead. But in 22 seconds Helms had made two baskets to put Tech back in the lead. Kimmel and Phillips followed with two free throws each and two foul shots by the Vols' Dick Kellar were quickly followed by baskets by Kimmel and Helms.

That gave the Jackets a 46-39 halftime lead, but they weren't home free yet.

The Vols surged at the foul line and hit six straight to close the gap to 50-49 in 1:50 of the second half. The last fine was against Helms and the Malone, Fla., sparkplug departed for only the second time this season.

A Dick Lenholt basket made it 52-49, but Carl Widseth hit a hook shot for Tennessee and Lewis Neyland added a free throw to tie it at 52-52.

That was when Phillips took charge, hitting seven straight Tech points to re-establish a 59-54 lead.

Kimmel, who had 13 points in the first half, was the game's high scorer. He got his 29 on nine field goals and 11 of 16 (not too good for him) free throws. Lenholt added 18 points, Phillips 13 and Helms 12.

Tops for Tennessee was dark-haired Ed Wiener with 28. The Brooklyn boy had a cool second half despite the fact his points were split between the periods, 14 and 14. Widseth, a really fine ball player, got 19 for the Vols while Herman Thompson and Bill Lovelace, who both fouled out in the late stages, got 12 and 10.

Once again Tech dominated the rebounds. The Jackets pulled 52 off the boards to only 24 for the Vols. Lenholt with 16, Bill Cohen with 15 and Kimmel with 11 led Tech in that department. Widseth was high for Tennessee with eight.

Tip-Off at 3 At Auditorium

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

The team that finished second in 1954 will play first in 1955 as the GHSA's state Class AA high school basketball tournament begins to unfold Tuesday afternoon at the Atlanta city auditorium.

Atlanta's Smith High's Smithies, who thrashed Moultrie, Richmond Academy and North Fulton before coming a cropper to title-winning Baker in the finals a year ago, will take on LaGrange's talented Grangers in the 3 p.m. opener of the 34th annual tournament, the third under co-sponsorship of The Atlanta Constitution.

The Blacksmiths and Grangers are rated as dark-horses for the 1955 dribble-fest, in which Baker's unconquered defending champions from Columbus are rated as prime favorites after rolling up a fabulous string of 38 consecutive victories over a two-year span.

The Bakers won't go to the tournament well until Wednesday, but two others regarded as prime contenders to dethrone them will be off and running Tuesday.

Griffin High's champions of 4-AA, a region that has never produced a state AA hardwood king, and North Fulton's Atlanta City League champs will attempt to cut what mustard Richmond Academy of Augusta and Albany provide.

Coach D. T. Smith's green-clad and startlingly-tall Griffin people will go against Frank Inman's Musketeers, led by 6-4 center Frank Whiteley, in the 4:30 Tuesday game.

Fred Fussell's North Fultons, with senior towers Joe Milner and Joe Marco in the foreground, will play opening day at 9 o'clock against Jack O'Brien's incoming Indians, led by Don Goodroe and Archie Cobb, a pair that stands 6-5 and 6-4.

The Tuesday night session opener at 7:30 will pit Charlie Aldridge's Russell Wildcats and peerless Jimmy Stanley against Benedictine, which has played spectacular ball in late season and features the Casey twins, Pat and Gene. Pat is six-feet-three, three inches taller than twin Gene, and sparks the Cadets along with Charlie Moore and Bill Knight.

The other eight teams, including Baker, don't tip-off until Wednesday. Columbus and Marietta will tangle at 3, Savannah

Baker Opener On Wednesday

High and O'Keefe at 4:30, Murphy and Commercial at 7:30 and Rossville and Baker at 9 on the second day.

Only four schools in the meet have ever won the crown before. Savannah has won seven state AA titles, ranking second to Macon Lanier, winner of 16. Baker, North Fulton and Columbus have taken home the whole hog once each. Al Mariotti's LaGrange, a frequent visitor to state Class A meets, is the lone first-timer and is in AA for the first year.

Tickets for adults, students and all others are priced at one dollar each this year. Tickets are good for any one afternoon or night

Franklin Named Houston Aide; Idzik Quits Vols for Canada

Condensed From Constitution Wire Reports

The doormats of the National Football league have four top-notch signal callers now: Eddie LeBaron back from Canada, Al Dorow from last year's club, and Jack Scarbath.

Guglielmi said: "I hope I can live up to the Redskins' great standards of quarterbacks in the past. I feel the Redskins are due for a change and I'm glad I'm going to be a part of it."

—MR. LONGTAIL REVISITED—

FROM TWENTY LENGTHS OFF BIG BRONZE TOOK 'EM ALL

By ARTHUR DALEY
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—Once upon a time the winning of turfdom's Triple Crown was, like virtue, its own reward. Except for the record books, there was no tangible proof that the diadem had been won. Not many years ago, however, the Thoroughbred Racing Associations decided that this comparatively rare feat rated a trophy and hence a handsome specimen of the silversmith's art was ordered.

J. Ben Jones

The presentation is made at the end of each year at the T. R. A. dinner. If no horse achieves Triple Crown stature that season, then the trophy goes to a previous equine hero that has swept the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont.

The last horse to be given the Triple Crown trophy—such presentations always are made in absentia, of course—was Whirlaway. This probably wouldn't have made an impressionable dent on anyone if the ceremonies had not been dressed up by the showing of newsreel shots of Mr. Longtail rocketing to victory in each of the classics. The movies left folks gasping.

It's practically a dead heat as to whether the Derby or the Preakness was the more sensational race for Whirlaway. No sane bettor would have dared wager a plugged nickel on him in the early stages of either race.

Going around the clubhouse turn at Churchill Downs he was last, some 14 lengths behind. At a corresponding position in the Pimlico affair he was 20 lengths behind. But he won 'em both with cyclonic finishes, the Derby by eight lengths and the Preakness by five—going away each time.

Whirly had been a mite on the unpredictable side as a 2-year-old with a fondness for bearing out to the outside rail. Once he found himself in the middle of the track and didn't know what to do. He was lost. But Trainer Ben Jones, sure he had a world-beater, used extraordinary patience with him. At times, though, Whirly pushed him to the brink of despair.

"He's makin' a half-wit outa me," drawled Ben sadly.

Just before the Churchill Downs affair, however, Jones made two smart moves. He placed a blinker on Whirly's right eye to keep him concentrating on the inside rail. And he placed Eddie Arcaro aboard him with instructions to hold back the chestnut comet until the head of the stretch.

Arcaro was dubious and he accepted his assignment reluctantly. The movies of the race show Whirlaway last and lagging at the start.

But when he started to come into focus the viewers couldn't believe their eyes because they had never seen anything like it.

He went inside some and outside others. This was virtually jet propulsion in horseflesh. Not only did he win by eight lengths but he set a Derby record of 2:01 2/5, a mark that still stands. His final furlong of 24 seconds is the equine equivalent of nothing flat.

Knowing and track-wise as these T. R. A. hardboots were, they still oh-ed and ah-ed like veritable yokels. Mr. Longtail, it seems, specialized in the impossible.

Vols' Widseth Gains in Scoring Race

By MERCER BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Carl (Spook) Widseth, Tennessee's junior center, is making a determined effort to overhaul the leaders in the Southeastern Conference basketball scoring race.

The 6-3 Minnesotan in two weeks has vaulted from 10th to fifth among the SEC point collectors, boosting his average 1.9 points during the period.

Widseth hit for 54 points in two games last week and for the first time this season moved ahead of his high-scoring teammate, Ed Wiener, who dropped from sixth to seventh. Wiener got only 20 points in the Vols' last two games and his season's average fell below the 20-point mark for the first time.

Widseth, who two weeks ago was averaging 18.3 points a game, now is hitting at a 20.2 clip. Wiener's mark has dropped to 19.1.

Both Tennessee aces were to be in the lineup as the Vols met Georgia Tech in Atlanta Monday night.

The four SEC players ahead of Widseth are Denver Brackeen of Mississippi, Jim Ashmore of Mississippi State, Jerry Harper of Alabama and Bill Kirkpatrick of Auburn. Brackeen, who seems a cinch to win the SEC scoring title, is averaging 26.9 per game, a slight drop from a week ago but still far ahead of Ashmore's 22.0 mark. Harper and Kirkpatrick stand at 21.9 and 20.7.

Unofficial leaders through games of Feb. 19:

	Total Points	Games	Avg.
Brackeen, Mississippi	484	18	26.9
Ashmore, Miss. State	396	18	22.0
Harper, Alabama	439	20	21.9
Kirkpatrick, Auburn	331	16	20.7
Widseth, Tennessee	344	17	20.2
McManus, Georgia	188	20	20.4
Wiener, Tennessee	345	18	19.1
Linn, Alabama	372	20	18.6
Burrow, Kentucky	354	20	17.7
Emrick, Florida	318	18	17.7

double-header. No reserved seats are being sold.

Seating arrangements on the ground floor have been vastly improved over last season. Side seats are elevated.

LaGrange will exhibit two of the state's most sterling performers in the opener with Smith. Wayne Copeland, a classy center, and Bobby Gene Harris have led the riddling of all foes except Baker. Smith has great speed, color and class, represented in veteran Bobby Braden, Don Ford, Bill McDaniel, Ken Warren and soph sensation Lamar Echols.

Red Shield Five In Medal Finals

Red Shield's 14-and-under boys' team and Lakewood Boys Club's 18-and-under group entered the finals of the Gold Medal basketball tournament with victories Monday.

Red Shield defeated Lakewood, 56-33, and Gary Mullins scored 25 points. Paul Vickers led Lakewood's older group to a 65-33 win over South Fulton Boys Club. He collected 14 points.

In a 16-and-under game, Dairy Queen gained the semifinals by beating Andrew Stewart, 90-33.

YOUNG HARRIS, BPI GET BIDS FOR FURTHER TOURNEY PLAY

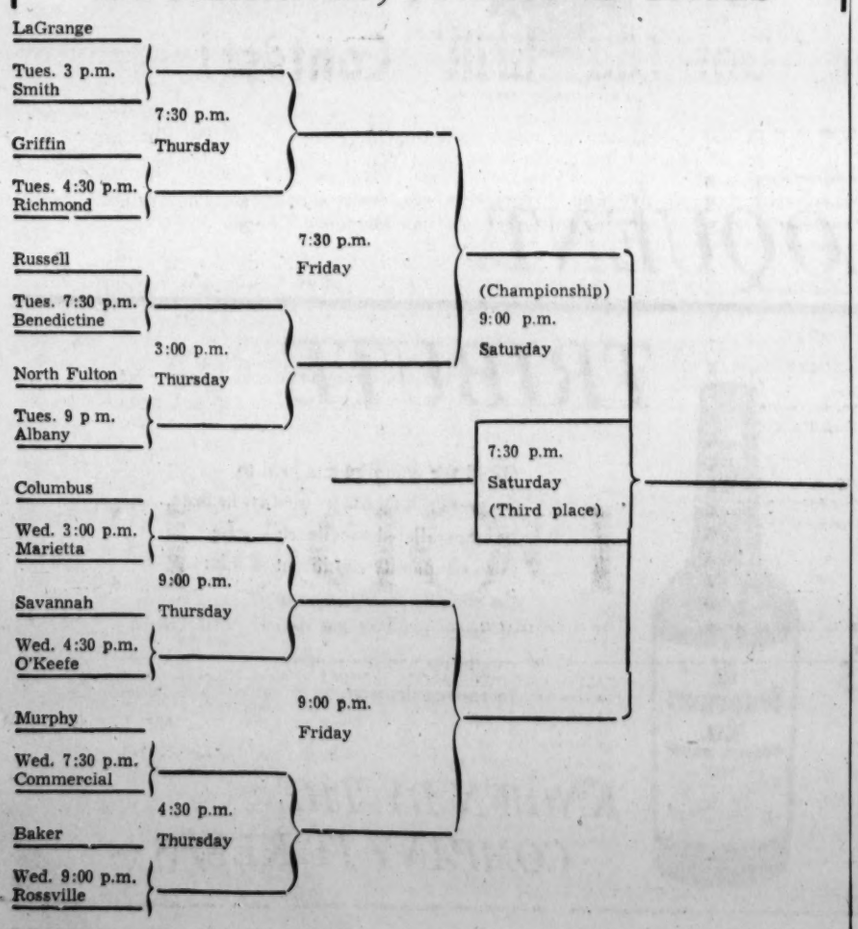

Young Harris and Brewton-Parker Junior Colleges both have committments for further tournament play after this week's state meet in Savannah, The Constitution learned Monday.

Brewton-Parker will defend its Georgia-Florida regional title in Jacksonville, Fla., a week from Tuesday as one of four teams battling for a berth in the nationals at Hutchinson, Kans. Brewton-Parker will meet tough Chipola in the opening round while host Jacksonville plays Pensacola.

Young Harris, top-seeded for the state meet and undefeated in league play, will pass up the regionals for the Southeastern Conference Invitational at Athens, Tenn., March 2-3-4. The field there includes two teams each from Georgia, Tennessee, North Carolina, Kentucky and one from Alabama. The second Georgia team has not been named and the winner of this tournament does not earn a place in the nationals.

AA PAIRINGS, STARTING TIMES

Why Ancient Age can say:

"If you can find a better bourbon ...buy it!"

For many, many years we've believed so devoutly in straight Kentucky whiskey that we've distilled nothing but!

We comb sun-dappled fields for the choicest ripened grains. We use bright, clear Kentucky spring water. We wait patiently through the years while Ancient Age reaches rich maturity. We seal and bottle the incomparable result only at the distillery where it is born (important for quality and uniformity). And whiskey experts have always agreed with us that there is no better bourbon.

More than six years ago extra stocks of Ancient Age were carefully laid away in anticipation of the overwhelming acceptance of this incomparable whiskey. The result is that today, practically everyone can enjoy Ancient Age. It's a welcome choice for those who refuse less than the best.

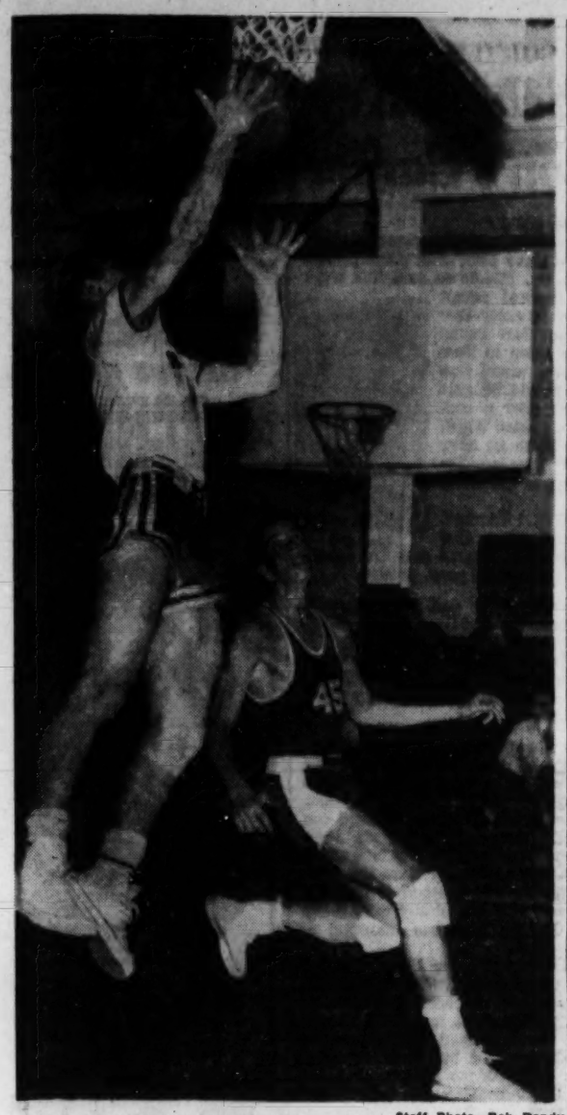

Tonight would be an excellent time for you to taste Ancient Age. You'll see why we can say: "If you can find a better bourbon...buy it"! Reason? There is no better bourbon.

Burrow Leads Cats Over Vandy, 77-59

Center Scores 31 Points As Kentucky Holds to Tie

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 21 (AP)—Kentucky's Bob Burrow scored 31 points and grabbed 27 rebounds tonight as the supposedly crippled Wildcats took a 77-59 Southeastern Conference basketball victory over Vanderbilt.

The 6-7 pivotman pulled Kentucky out of danger in the second half as Vanderbilt was knocked from contention in the SEC title race.

Playing for the first time without Phil (Cookie) Crawemeyer, 6-7 regular forward who broke a leg against DePaul Saturday night, Kentucky remained in a tie for the SEC lead with Alabama at 9-2.

Clarence (Babe) Taylor of nearby Frankfort scored 27 points, including Vandy's first 10 markers and six of seven Commodore field goals the first half.

Jerry Bird and Billy Evans each scored 10 points for Kentucky.

HORTON, MORTON TO HANDLE TV, RADIO OF AA TOURNEY

Nine games of the upcoming GHSA and Constitution-sponsored state Class AA high school basketball tournament at the Atlanta City Auditorium will be either telecast or broadcast. And the championship game will be carried on both TV and radio by The Journal-Constitution's affiliate station WSB.

Ed Morton

Thad Horton

A rhyming team of Horton and Morton will be at the microphones to handle play-by-play details. Thad Horton, former WSB sports director, will do the commentary on televised games with Ed Morton, current WSB sports director, handling radio chores.

Today's opening game between Atlanta Smith and LaGrange will be televised. The 9 p.m. Albany-North Fulton game will be on WSB-radio. The Savannah-O'Keefe game at 4:30 Wednesday will go out via TV, the 7:30 Commercial-Murphy game via radio.

The 3 p.m. Thursday game will be on TV, the 9 p.m. game on radio. Both semifinals will be Friday radio fare, and the Saturday finals will be simulcast. —ROBERTS

LSU To Talk to Four More

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 21 (AP)—A six-man screening committee will interview four candidates tomorrow for athletic director at Louisiana State University.

The group is seeking a successor to T. P. (Skipper) Heard, retired in a campus shakeup Feb. 5 that ousted football coach Gaynell Tinsley.

Screening chairman Sterling Gladden said the four to be interviewed beginning at 9 a.m. John W. Morriss, assistant athletic director at Michigan State and a former Olympic hurdler while attending Southwestern Louisiana, Lafayette; LSU boxing coach J. T. Owen; George Schwab, LSU purchasing agent and former assistant atletic director at Army; Ray Scheuering, former Tiger athlete and now executive assistant to Mayor DeLesseps Morrison of New Orleans.

Others reported interviewed last weekend were Jim Corbett, former LSU sports publicist now with the sports department of the National Broadcasting Co. in New York City; LSU assistant athletic director Harry Rabenhorst; Henry Glaze, former LSU boxer and principal of Gonzales High School, and Ed Khoury, former LSU boxing coach.

Beaumont Problem Up to Loop Chiefs

Owner Russell Requests Help in Franchise Move

Condensed From Constitution Wire Reports

Allen Russell threw the problem of what to do with the Beaumont baseball team squarely into the laps of the Texas League directors Monday night.

Russell, president and owner of the Beaumont franchise, said he had offers from a Wichita Falls group seeking to bring the team there and from a Beaumont faction which claimed to have raised enough cash to keep the team in the Gulf Coast city.

As a result, he said, the decision must come from the Texas League directors, scheduled to meet Tuesday in Dallas to consider the future of the Exporters.

Russell said he had informed leaders of two Beaumont groups trying to keep the team there that they must raise a certain amount of cash immediately to retain the franchise.

He said he was informed by telephone Monday night that the cash had been raised by one of the groups.

Earlier Monday, Russell and Texas League Pres. Dick Butler conferred with a Wichita Falls group which proposed to try to sell $100,000 worth of tickets by Saturday as a test of interest in the team.

Virgil Stallcup, former Cincinnati shortstop, was named manager of Colonial Heights-Petersburg in the Class B Piedmont League.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—Rafael Merentino, a free swinging Argentine import, opened cuts around both eyes of Rinzi Nocero tonight in his U.S. debut to win on an eighth-round technical knockout at St. Nicholas Arena. The doctor refused to let Nocero come out for the ninth.

Marentino weighed 158½, Nocero 159½ pounds.

White Sign, Hensler's Win in AAU

White Sign Co. followed Bobby Keanon's 21-point firing to a 69-65 win over the Class A Kirkwood Ramblers Monday night in the Sports Arena Open basketball tournament.

Dolly Eason posted the night's top scoring performance, swishing 35 points as her Coca-Cola team stopped East Point, 56-43, in women's Class B play.

Every one of the winners scored at least four as Hensler's Drive-In clipped Superior Awning, 51-45, in men's Class B competition. However, the losers' Gene Brisbane led the game's point-making with 13.

Garland Finholster and Bobby Willis had 20 and 18 to keep the Ramblers within five points of White Sign Co. throughout the game.

Dick Rich sank two free throws in the last three seconds to give Eagles Club a 58-57 victory over Sonoraville. Tech freshman Dick Kouns sparked the winners with 17 and Buddy Chitwood's 22 was high for Sonoraville.

Forest Park, Henry Co. Breeze in Tourney Bows

By MORT PERSKY
Constitution Sports Writer

FOREST PARK, Feb. 21—Forest Park and Henry County of McDonough breezed past opening-round opponents in the district 4-B east basketball tournament here Monday night, while Jackson and Jonesboro ran into stiff winds from North Clayton and Milner that made their paths to Tuesday night's semifinals rougher sailing.

Mickey Blalock-led Forest Park bowled over Zebulon, 62-48, after running up a 20-5 first quarter lead; and Henry County ripped through Fayette County, 54-22, in the first game of the evening.

Jonesboro had to step up its offense in the final period to dump Milner, 63-59, and Jackson actually straggled by three points with six minutes to go before running away with the nightcap, 55-34.

Henry County faces Jonesboro at 7:30 Tuesday night and Jackson tangles with Forest Park at 8:45 in the semifinal contest. Winners of both games will advance to the district tournament at McDonough starting Thursday, but they will decide the eastern championship Wednesday first.

Quick forward Jerry Long wound up with 15 markers, and big center Tony Grant with 14 as Jackson found its fast-breakway clear once North Clayton's Harry Crowe and Gene McMichen had fouled out. Bill Hutchins, with 14, was North Clayton's leader.

Crowe's departure, however, proved he had a good claim on North Clayton's most-valuable tag. His team was outscored 27-3, after Crowe got out of Jackson's way.

Greenies Breeze Past Plainsmen Five, 90-79

Special to The Constitution

AUBURN, Ala., Feb. 21—Auburn was unable to recover from a frigid first half Monday night, losing an important Southeastern Conference basketball game to Tulane, 90-79.

The two teams had gone into the SEC game tied for fifth with 6-4 records, but Tulane moved ahead on the victory to tie Tennessee.

The Plainsmen went almost 10 minutes before they scored a field goal and hit for only 21.2 per cent of their floor shots in the first half.

That was enough to give the Greenies a 41-27 halftime edge and they protected it the rest of the way.

High scorer for the game was Auburn's Jim O'Donnell with 28. Bird Whigham, a 5-6 guard, got 16, all but two in the second half Bill Kirkpatrick made 10.

Florida Beats Rebels

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Feb. 21 (AP)—Mississippi's brilliant center, Denver Brackeen, maintained his Southeastern Conference basketball scoring lead by hitting for 39 points tonight but his effort wasn't enough as the University of Florida won, 78-72.

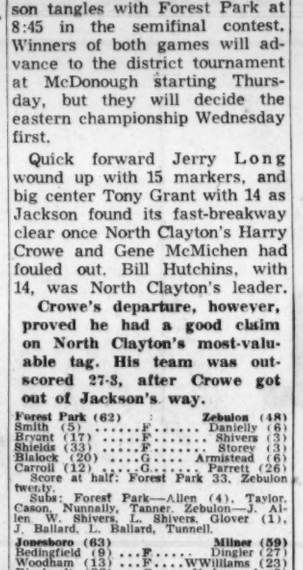

Sonny Powell, driving Florida guard, sank 28 points to lead the Gators who had to overcome a halftime deficit of 37-33.

Ole Miss was ahead by six points midway the final period when Powell and forward Bob Emrick began banging away for Florida. Two consecutive field goals by Powell tied the score and two free throws by him put Florida out front to stay.

Bulldogs Banking On Shifty Tarleton

Injury-Hexed Halfback Shines in Spring Drills

By ROBERT WYNN
Special to The Constitution

ATHENS, Feb. 21—Two years ago, as a sensational freshman halfback, Wendell Tarleton of Atlanta's Fulton High had Bulldog fans in an uproar about his varsity possilities.

However, last year as a sophomore, Lord Wendell was plagued by a seige of injuries and didn't actually get a chance to exhibit his great speed in much varsity competition.

"Each time we got Wendell ready for a big game last year" comments backfield coach Sterling DuPree, "another injury would hit him. This kept us from seeing what he could actually do in varsity competition."

A back injury and a badly bruised hip kept the little back on the sidelines most of the season. Even with that he finished the season as Georgia's sixth highest rusher. He carried 33 times for 106 yards—an average of 3.2 yards per carry.

ATHENS, Feb. 21 — Coach Wallace Butts gave the Bulldogs a day off from the rough stuff Monday afternoon as he ran them through dummy drills on Ag Hill practice field.

"This year," continued DuPree, "he has still been bothered by minor injuries, but has shown a great deal of improvement. And his greatly improved confidence will help him a lot this season."

Last Saturday in Sanford Stadium, Tarleton had one of his best days of spring scrimmage. He reeled off several long gains for the Whites as they nosed out the Red squad for the first time this year, 27-25. He set up one touchdown with a 21-yard gallop to the two-yard line and scored one TD on a two-yard plunge.

"We think Wendell and John Bell can hold down the lef-halfback position this year," says DuPree, "if this injury bug will leave Tarleton in one piece."

Dons Retain Lead in UP Cage Poll

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—San Francisco, which sets out next month to become the Pacific Coast's first NCAA basketball champion since 1942, led the United Press ratings Monday for the third straight week, with Minnesota's Big Ten leaders making a big jump to the No. 4 spot.

Coach Phil Woolpert's Dons, who have won 20 of 21 games, including the last 18 in a row, were the first-place choices of 30 members of the 35-man United Press coaches board. San Francisco's 332-point total was a comfortable 119 more than runnerup Kentucky's.

The coaches voted the same teams as last week among the top 10. Minnesota, which defeated two Big Ten rivals in bringing its record to 14-5, made the biggest advance in the select group as it moved from eighth to fourth place, behind LaSalle (20-4).

Duquesne (17-3), UCLA (19-3), North Carolina State (23-4), Utah (19-3), Marquette (20-1) and George Washington (19-4) completed the top 10 group in that order.

ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD LINDA JO BAKER DOES DIFFICULT WHIRL
She's Headed for National Championship. Daddy Taught Her All

Two Georgia Peaches Glide to Fame On Ugly, Heavy Roller Skates

Mary Gardner Is Senior Champ

By BILL ALLEN

Creating the illusion of floating or flying on ice skates is tough enough, it would seem, but how about a Georgia Peach who wins seven figure skating championships wearing cumbersome, heavy, tormenting roller skates?

That's Atlanta's Mary Gardner. As far as she's concerned, seven Southeastern championships and a national runner-up spot in seven years of competition is just the beginning.

And, right up there with her is a young er local skating champ, Linda Jo Baker who doesn't know how to lose.

Mary started out at the local Rollerdrome under Joe Baker's tutelage back in 1948, and now she is a national proficiency judge and owner of roller skating's most coveted accolade, the Gold Bar. She's the only amateur in the South to win the award.

Beginning in 1950, Mary has won the Southeastern junior girls' speed, the novice dance in 1951, and in 1952 the intermediate dance, novice figures and free-style titles.

She won the senior dance title in 1953 and 1954 and was second senior figure skater.

Now she plans to concentrate on figures and freestyle.

MARY GARDNER
South's Most Outstanding

Linda Jo Baker Takes Youth Prize

Meanwhile, she gets a thrill out of watching the development of Linda Jo, 11-year-old whiz whose daddy Mary says is "the best instructor of them all."

Linda Jo has won the junior freestyle crown three years in a row now, and the junior dance skating championship in 1953. Lithsome Linda has won national awards in speed and figure roller skating too.

Having tried ice skating, Mary wishes she could have had early experience on the runners.

"It's much easier than roller skating," she said, "because the four roller wheels are heavier, and the extra friction makes figure and dance work much harder to do."

But, she hastens to add: "The challenge of roller skating is something extra and I love it."

She and Linda Jo both will be competing in the regional championships at Knoxville later this year.

COLLEGE CORNER

Vols' Med School Key To Middleton's Career

By LARRY FOX

IT WILL BE UP to the University of Tennessee medical school to decide whether Auburn's Dave Middleton plays professional football with the Detroit Lions. Middleton said this week that he was unable to find a medical school near Detroit that operated on the quarter system but that Tennessee did. The fleet young halfback said he applied for admission to Tennessee on his way back to Auburn, would find out about it April 1. Even if he should be able to play pro ball, Middleton won't sign a contract until after the track season. . . . Bob Ward, Maryland line coach, has turned down an offer to assist Rex Enright at South Carolina. Incidentally, the rumor is recurring in Columbia that Enright may retire soon.

Larry Fox

Homer Hobbs, the former Georgia lineman, is reported cracking the whip at Furman. One boy has already been dropped from the squad and the others received a stern warning to stay in shape all year, or else.

QUOTE, UNQUOTE: Leon Cunningham and Harry Lovell, the old Smith High and South Carolina buddies, almost didn't get to play pro ball together. Cunningham was drafted by the Steelers, then traded to Detroit where he joined Lovell. When he got word of the trade, Cunningham told the Charlotte News, "It's what I want. The Lions have got a great ball club. I know I'll have a tough time making it."

GEORGIA TECH'S ALUMNI magazine is putting out ballots to bring the Jackets' all-time football team up to date. Votes will be for the all-timers and then for a team of the modern era starting in 1945. Dean George Griffin is sorting the votes. . . . Saturday night's Auburn-LSU basketball game marked the final collegiate encounter between two old Darlington Prep teammates, centers Gordon Mummert of Auburn and Ned Clark of LSU. . . . Kentucky has dubbed its basketball team the "Desire Kids" And Coach Adolph Rupp says he's proud of the way they've moved ahead of his timetable on less ability than many other clubs he's coached. Only Georgia Tech has managed to derail the Kentucky express.

The Green Bay Packers claim rookie Gene White, an end at Georgia before being moved to defensive halfback with the pros, may develop "into one of the best defensive halfbacks in the league." Another ex-Bulldog, Breezy Reid, led Green Bay in ground gaining last year. . . . Miami opened spring practice Thursday and Coach Andy Gustafson had his Hurricanes operating in secret. Miami, which lost only to Auburn and the NCAA last season, is supposed to be heading for even better things (like a bowl bid, maybe) next year.

Rattlers Top SIAC Field

TUSKEGEE, Ala., Feb. 21—The annual SIAC basketball tournament, beginning here Feb. 24, features the Florida A&M University Rattlers, seeded No. 1.

Knoxville College is ranked No. 2, Bethune-Cookman College and Alabama State College are seeded 3 and 4 as the teams most likely to capture the championship awards.

The Rattlers, annually dangerous and powerful, will be vigorously challenged by Knoxville.

By no means, however, can talented teams like Morehouse and Morris Brown of Atlanta concede the victory to the favorites without a battle.

Mayer Stars' Coach

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (AP)—Raymond J. Mayer, Depaul University basketball coach and athletic director, was named today to coach the college all-star squad which will play the Harlem Globetrotters on a 21-city tour, beginning March 27.

Adlai Might Beat Ike, Crony Says

Adlai Stevenson will be the nation's next president if President Eisenhower does not seek reelection, a close adviser to Stevenson predicted in an interview here Monday.

Dr. Walter Johnson of Chicago, cochairman of the 1952 national committee to draft Stevenson, said President Eisenhower is the only Republican who might beat the Democratic leader.

Johnson believes Stevenson's nomination at the 1956 Democratic convention is practically a foregone conclusion.

"I believe Mr. Stevenson can beat any Republican, with the possible exception of the President," Johnson said. "Whether he can beat Mr. Eisenhower is a question for the American people. The President still has tremendous appeal."

3 LECTURES HERE

Johnson, chairman of the history department of the University of Chicago, is here to deliver three lectures on "The Drafting of Adlai Stevenson in 1952" at Emory University. He gave the first lecture Monday night and will speak again at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday.

Stevenson's popularity has skyrocketed throughout the nation since 1952, Johnson said.

"As a historian, I'm amazed that a defeated candidate has actually improved his standing with the people," he said. "I know of no other defeated candidate in history who has had such a great influence on the American people."

WORLD TOUR

Johnson, who accompanied Stevenson on a world tour in 1953, said the former Illinois governor "has made a great contribution to our foreign policy. He talks reason. He doesn't let us fall for such slogans as 'liberation' and 'massive retaliation.'"

The Eisenhower administration reflects Stevenson's influence in its "more moderate attitude in foreign policy, particularly in the Formosan situation," Johnson said.

He said that if, by chance, Stevenson did refuse the nomination, the Democratic Party probably would turn to one of its governors. "Which one, I don't know, but Gov. Harriman of New York would have a key position."

Johnson said that Georgia's Sen. Richard Russell has practically no chance for the nomination. "He is extremely able," Johnson said, "but he's up against one of those difficult positions in American politics: he's looked upon as the leader of just one section—the South."

1,000 Revelers Hurt In Pre-Lenten Capers

LIMA, Peru, Feb. 21 (AP)—First aid posts treated about 1,000 persons for injuries in the first days of Peru's pre-Lenten carnival celebration Sunday. Fractures were not uncommon. Many revelers were hurt in falls while fleeing from practical jokers hurling buckets of water. Others were run down by speeding automobiles. No deaths were reported up to last midnight.

Injured Worker Benefit Raises Now Law

A law providing higher benefits for injured workers went into effect Monday afternoon.

The amended Workmen's Compensation Act became effective as it was signed by Gov. Griffin. It provides maximum benefits of $30 per week for 400 weeks. A maximum of $24 per week for 350 weeks was provided previously.

Gov. Griffin said it fulfilled one of this major campaign promises.

The governor also signed two other statewide bills into law. One would permit absentee ballots to be cast by ordinary mail rather than registered mail. The other would provide that birth certificates of adopted children could list the residence of the foster parents, rather than the place of birth of the adopted children.

ABOUT TIME

In his column on Page 4, Thomas L. Stokes writes that it was about time the President clarified his administration's aims and Sen. Wayne Morse declared himself a Democrat. The recent declarations of both men were long overdue, according to Stokes.

IN THE MEDIUM-PRICE FIELD—

THE 1955 Clipper

Biggest...Most Powerful

and it's Built by Packard Craftsmen

245 horsepower Clipper V-8. Most powerful engine in its field.

IT'S REALLY BIG, the 1955 Clipper, and it's powered to suit its size. Almost 18 feet long, over-all, there's plenty of leg room, hip room, head room . . . more room all around than any other car in its field.

TREMENDOUS POWER puts the Clipper ahead of its field in performance, too, for its free-breathing engines develop a mighty 245 and 225 horsepower. Making full use of this engine power is the new Twin Ultramatic Transmission, the smoothest and most responsive automatic drive in existence. It really is two transmissions in one, providing a finger-tip selection of starts . . . lightning-like getaway or super-smooth glide.

PACKARD CRAFTSMANSHIP shows its hallmark everywhere in the Clipper. The sleek, sweeping exterior lines and color-coordinated interiors bear the inimitable Packard touch. Even a casual glance reveals that the Clipper is quality built . . . built to the traditionally high standards of Packard!

THE 1955 CLIPPER sets a new standard of motoring pleasure in the medium-price field. Big, glamorous, powerful, it is designed for distinctive individuality. You owe it to yourself to see and drive the Clipper before you buy any medium-priced car . . . for the 1955 Clipper is the most distinctive car in its price class!

Problem Study Unit Told To Bring Ideas to Meet

Members of the State Problems Study Committee Monday were asked for suggestions for studying the operations of state government and financing expanded services.

Gov. Griffin called the first meeting of the newly-created committee for March 4 at 10 a.m. at the State Senate chamber. As Griffin sent telegrams to the 21 members, he asked them to be prepared to contribute suggestions or questions at the initial meeting.

He said an executive secretary will be employed, following the pattern of the committees which in recent years recommended the Minimum Foundation Program for Education and the tax revision program.

The governor said the study group will concentrate its activities on the education, highway, welfare, and health departments. These agencies spend 90 per cent of the state taxes.

House Speaker Marvin Moate of Hancock County appointed three representatives on the committee shortly before the governor called the meeting. They are: Reps. Edgar Bialock of Clayton County, Denmark Groover of Bibb, and Colbert Hawkins of Screven.

Judge Blocks Officer's Story of Ferrell Threat

the murder only a few minutes after the shooting.

Judge McElroy withheld a decision on that testimony until tomorrow.

While the jury was excused, the judge read into the record a statement explaining what the prosecution sought to prove.

He said Prosecutor Deason proposed to bring out from witness James R. Taylor, testimony that Taylor had mentioned Fuller's name just a short time after Patterson was slain at Phenix City last June 18.

The witness, a Columbus, Ga., taxicab driver, had testified he saw the former chief deputy sheriff dash from between two buildings near the murder scene and speed off in a car. Defense attorneys have tried to show that Taylor said nothing about it until after the state had offered a $10,000 reward.

After conferring with opposing attorneys, Judge McElroy said Deason advised him the witness would give the following version of what happened after he said he saw Fuller:

The radio dispatcher at the cab company where Taylor worked broadcast an informative bulletin to drivers that Patterson had been killed, and another cab driver radioed back, "Who did it?"

Taylor immediately replied on the radio in his cab, "Albert Fuller."

Defense attorneys objected that the testimony is inadmissible. Judge McElroy said he would rule on the question tomorrow.

"I screamed 'Ira, he's out of bullets' I thought Ira could hear me and would try to take the gun away from him. Then I ran out of the house."

BACK OF HEAD

Lt. L. T. Bullard said Treadaway evidently fired a bullet into the back of Lane's head as the Tenneseean lay helpless on the floor.

Mrs. Cone said apparently Mrs. Warren and Booth already had been shot before Treadaway fired at her. She told Sgt. Hause "there must have been a silencer on the gun because I didn't hear the shots."

She also said she did not hear Treadaway enter the house, although police said he broke a glass in the front door, reached in from the outside and released the lock.

Mrs. Cone said Treadway was "insanely jealous" of Mrs. Warren and added that he "made life miserable for her."

Sgt. Hause said Treadaway last year attacked an Army captain, Rayburn C. Jones, 36, who met Mrs. Warren in a downtown night club and offered to take her home. Hause said Treadaway beat Jones with a pistol and on Nov. 27, 1954, paid a $105 fine in Municipal Court after being arraigned on charges of assault and battery.

In a Monday Constitution story comparing other mass slayings, a man who killed Ptl. Marion Key and wounded Sgt. R. C. West was erroneously listed as Clarence Hackney. Police records identify the man as A. C. Hackney.

Funeral services for Mr. Booth will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday in the First Methodist Church at Winder. Dr. Henry Edward Russell will officiate. Burial will be in Booth Memorial Park, near Statham.

Mrs. Warren is survived by a daughter, Miss Marilyn Warren of Atlanta; parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wilson of Senoia; two sisters, Mrs. W. L. Pittman of Atlanta and Mrs. D. M. Parks of Senoia, and a brother, Carl Wilson of Newnan.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the chapel of Henry M. Blanchard & Son. Dr. L. E. Smith will officiate. Burial will be in Oakhill Cemetery, Newnan.

RITES IN CHATTANOOGA

Funeral and burial services for Mr. Lane will be held at Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mr. Treadaway is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Darline Rawlins of Jonesboro; two sons, Alton Treadaway Jr. of the U.S. Marine Corps and Roger Treadaway of the U.S. Air Force; mother, Mrs. C. F. Treadaway of Thomaston; three sisters, Mrs. Annie Jones of Thomaston, Mrs. Ola Bullard of Atlanta and Mrs. Pauline Morris of Griffin, and two brothers, Paul Treadaway of Atlanta, and Charlie Treadaway of Austell.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the chapel of the Pasley Funeral Home at Thomaston. The Rev. Y. A. Oliver will officiate. Burial will be in South View Cemetery, Thomaston.

$20 Income Tax Slash Given Nod

with the welfare of 160,000,000 Americans."

The Democrats retorted that President Eisenhower himself had repeatedly held out the hope of a tax cut, but only for 1956, a presidential election year. This, too, they suggested, was "politics."

Believing a presidential request for such a reduction to be inevitable in 1956, they were moving to obtain the popular credit lest it be taken from them by the administration next year.

The division within the committee was not officially announced.

It was understood, however, that a single Republican, Rep. Howard H. Baker of Tennessee, voted with 14 Democrats for the cut and that a single Democrat, Rep. Burr P. Harrison of Virginia, joined nine Republicans in dissent.

Few doubted tonight that Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas and the Democratic floor leader, Rep. John W. McCormick of Massachusetts, would bring the bill safely through the House.

OUTCOME IN DOUBT

The ultimate outcome nevertheless was in doubt.

Powerful Senate opposition to any tax cut now, centering around the chief Democratic fiscal spokesman in the Senate, Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, was being marshaled tonight.

It was understood that neither Byrd nor the Senate Democratic leadership generally had been consulted by Rayburn before his decision to move.

Only two things were certain:

One was that an old-fashioned bread and butter issue had now been joined between the House Democrats and the President and that somebody was going to be hurt.

NEARING CONTEST

The other was that the House Democratic leadership was moving forward to join a contest with the President that the Senate Democratic leadership would have preferred to avoid.

In the background lay the important fact that traditional Democratic partisans, including the Democratic National Committee, had become increasingly restive at the "go slow" policy adopted in the Senate by the Democratic hierarchy headed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Byrd appears to have the votes in the Senate Finance Committee to halt the reduction, but many complexities enter the scene.

In the first place, Rayburn and his fellow Democrats attached the proposed tax cut to proposals which the administration itself is strongly backing, to extend intact for another year the excise (sales) and corporation taxes.

Lacking congressional action, these two levies, which bring in altogether about $3,000,000,000 a year, will be reduced March 31. Tied up as they are in the House bill, the President must allow them to fall if he seeks to veto the income tax reduction feature.

Byrd and his "sound money" cohorts of the finance committee are in a dilemma as well. They are determined that excise taxes, at least, must not be allowed to fall, for these, if off only a single day, would cost irrecoverable tax revenue.

Glasses That Can't Be Seen

Free booklet explains how you can see without glasses!

Atlanta (Special) — A European scientist has invented a new type of corneal contact lens, which revolutionizes visual aids and may enable millions of Americans who are now slaves to glasses to actually throw them away. The secret of the radical difference and superiority of the lens lies in a specially ground and polished recessed and domed central portion, which prevents the lens from touching the most sensitive part of the eye —its center. Visual discomfort and poor sight can now be improved far better than with glasses. The lens is absolutely invisible. No fluids or impressions are required. Persons who wear thick glasses with strong corrections; post-cataract cases and cases of Keratoconus, mixed astigmatism, strong farsightedness and nearsightedness, and those who desire to look better without glasses, can now be corrected far better than with glasses. Price now only $75.00. Come in, write or phone for your copy of the interesting Booklet "The Truth About Contact Lenses" to Research Director, Atlanta Invisible Contact Lens Service, Volunteer Bldg., 66 Luckie St., Suite 323, Atlanta, Ga. HOW MANY BRICKS?—Last bricks in Atlanta's 24-story Fulton National Building at Marietta and Forsyth Sts., NE, were being laid by workmen Monday. The towering structure required 20,000 cubic feet of concrete and 6,000 tons of structural steel. Some 10,000 truck loads of dirt were excavated. And how many bricks in the king-sized building? About 2,000,000, it is reported.

Foresees Need in Dixie of 7,000 Recreation Workers

The South will need at least 7,000 more full-time recreation workers by 1957, recreation and educational leaders said here Monday.

In a panel discussion at the first Southern Regional Conference on Recreation Education, W. J. McGlothlin of Atlanta said this figure refers only to people who direct and supervise leisure time activities.

Some 75 members of the Southern Regional Education Board and the National Recreation Assn. are attending the three-day conference at the Luckie Street YMCA. They represent 14 Southern states.

$8.5 Million School, Civic Bonds Urged in DeKalb

The DeKalb County grand jury Monday proposed bond issues totaling $8,500,000 to meet school and public service needs.

The largest single item in the December, 1954, term's presentments was $5,000,000 for construction of new public schools.

RAPID GROWTH

The money should be voted "at the earliest possible date," the document read. It pointed out that during the next two years 6,000 children now living in the county will reach school age. This would necessitate 300 new classrooms.

The grand jury also declared that rapid population growth in the county made necessary expansions of $1,000,000 in the water works and $1,000,000 in the sewage system.

They further recommended a $1,000,000 bond issue to build and repair roads and a $500,000 issue to develop parks and recreational facilities, "especially for children."

"It is our understanding that no increases in the present tax rate will be necessary to float these bonds," the presentments read. "The sewage system bonds and water system bonds will be retired from earnings of these departments. The road bonds, school bonds and park bonds can be retired systematically under the present bond assessment due to the increased tax digest."

HOSPITAL PLAN

Other suggestions include establisment of an authority to promote and operate the new county hospital and proposed nursing home. The county commissioner was urged to buy a tract of land, now under option, for the hospital Money would come from previously approved bonds.

A study committee will report to the March, 1955, grand jury on the proposed hospital authority.

County police and the prison work camp received praise from the grand jury for recent improvements. The presentments recommended $10,000 for an isolation unit; $14,000 for a new laundry and general improvements in the kitchen at the work camp. 8

College Park Referendum On Board Set

College Park City Council Monday called for a public referendum within 120 days to decide whether a seven or nine man government should rule the city when a fourth ward is created.

The action followed the appearance of several residents of the southern portion of the city who complained bitterly because the bill to create a fourth ward failed to pass the General Assembly.

In a sudden action, City Superintendent W. T. Foot was granted 15 days pay and fired on a resolution by Councilman Ralph Crawford, who refused to explain why he offered the motion.

Council voted 3-3 on the motion, with Councilmen J. D. Bazemore and Hugh Conley protesting hotly. Mayor Mal Anderson broke the tie and voted in favor of dismissal.

Councilman Bazemore said after the session that Foot was "a fine man discharged without reason."

On the referendum matter, council voted to draft another bill creating a new ward for the city for presentation at the next sessionj of the Legislature. However, discussion about what representation each ward should have led to council's plan to study the entire city government situation. Under a seven man system, each ward would have one councilman, with two aldermen-at-large and the mayor. Under a nine man setup, each ward would be represented by two councilmen, in addition to the mayor.

Poised for Jumpoff, Premier Says; Bangkok Parley Tense; Dulles Due

BANGKOK, Tuesday, Feb. 22 (AP)—Delegates to the Southeast Asia defense treaty conference gathered today in an atmosphere made tense by the Thai premier's report that Communist "Free Thai" forces are massing close to Thailand's border.

Thai officials also expressed concern lest Communists among refugees in Laos on Thailand's northeast border stir up disturbances during the three-day conference, opening tomorrow.

(Red China's Peiping radio blasted away at the Bangkok conference. A broadcast heard in Tokyo called it a United States plot "to get Asians to do the dying for U. S. aggression in Asia.")

DULLES STATEMENT

Secretary of State Dulles, before his plane left Manila for Bangkok, said in a statement the time was ripe for "plain speaking" to prevent "a reckless Communist miscalculation which could endanger the lives of many."

Dulles' party was due to arrive in Bangkok about 1 p.m. today—11 a.m. EST Tuesday.

At a news conference yesterday, Premier Pibulsonggram said 20,000 Communist "Free Thai" troops were in Red China's Yunnan Province poised for a jumpoff.

100 MILES AWAY

Yunnan's border is scarcely 100 miles north of Thailand. It is separated by a segment of the Indochinese state of Laos dominated by the Communists.

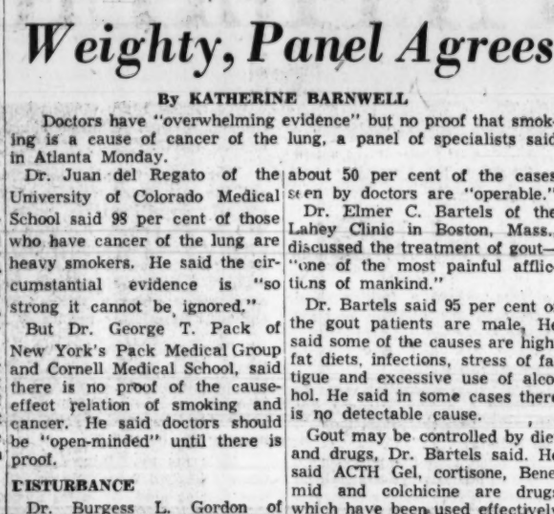

"If we don't do anything about it, communism will move across the Mekong River and dominate all of Southeast Asia," the Premier said. He said Thailand's troops could take care of the "Free Thai" forces but would need help if Red China intervened.

JOINT AIR FORCE

Foreign Secretary Carlos P. Garcia of the Philippines said he would propose a common air force for collective defense by the member nations—the United States, United Kingdom, France, New Zealand, Australia, the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan.

At his news conference, Pibulsonggram expressed hope that eventually India and Burma would join the defense organization but said the geographical setup of the treaty signed last September in Manila excluded Japan.

Ike's 'Rosy Economy' Hoax, Sparkman Says

By BOB SIBLEY
Constitution Staff Writer

The "rosy economic picture" painted by President Eisenhower is a "hoax," Sen. John Sparkman charged in a Rome, Ga., speech Monday night.

"In reality, we haven't been making sufficient progress to match our increased population and better productivity," the Alabama senator said.

Sparkman rapped the "widening gap" between high income groups on one hand and farmers and small businessmen on the other.

"The result of this widening gap is bound to be unemployment and distressed industry," he continued. Sparkman predicted "unemployment pockets," rather than widespread unemployment.

The distinguished senator made these statements at a $10-per-plate Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, sponsored by the Floyd County Democratic Assn. This was the first such dinner held in the Seventh Congressional District.

Sparkman, 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee, said the administration admits the Benson farm program will mean less income for the farmer. "And it comes when the farmer is in the worst squeeze since before World War II," he added.

Another "hoax" cited by Sparkman was "the administration's so called education program." He declared, "I seriously doubt whether a single school room would be built in Georgia under the proposed program."

Sparkman said the administration's proposed multi-million dollar road program is "phony," too. "This program will shift a greater burden to the states, rather than helping them," he said.

American Bar Assn. Asks Voluntary Social Security

New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

CHICAGO, Feb. 21—More than 50,000 lawyers knocked at the door of the Federal Social Security System today.

They asked admission on a voluntary basis to the benefits and obligations of the Social Security Act.

This action was taken at the annual midwinter meeting here of the House of Delegates, the policy making body of the American Bar Assn. The association's membership as of Feb. 15 was put at 54,236.

The delegates acted on a recommendation of the association's board of governors, which said:

"In view of the present sentiment of the members of the legal profession in favor of voluntary Social Security coverage, the board of governors recommends to the House of Delegates that the American Bar Association favor voluntary coverage under the Social Security Act for lawyers and such of the professional groups as desire to be included."

When a voice vote was taken on the recommendation there were enough negative votes to cause John D. Randall, chairman of the House of Delegates, to pause before declaring that "the ayes have it."

Final action followed a discussion in which several delegates opposed inclusion of lawyers in Social Security on any basis.

The lawyers thus became the first professional group, according to officials here, to seek admission to the Social Security program. The American Medical Assn. has not taken an official stand on the matter.

Legislation is pending in Congress to permit lawyers and members of other professions who so wish to qualify for Social Security benefits. The action of the House of Delegates puts the Bar Association on record as favoring this proposal.

Cancer-Leaf Link Data Weighty, Panel Agrees

By KATHERINE BARNWELL

Doctors have "overwhelming evidence" but no proof that smoking is a cause of cancer of the lung, a panel of specialists said in Atlanta Monday.

Dr. Juan del Regato of the University of Colorado Medical School said 98 per cent of those who have cancer of the lung are heavy smokers. He said the circumstantial evidence is "so strong it cannot be ignored."

But Dr. George T. Pack of New York's Pack Medical Group and Cornell Medical School, said there is no proof of the cause-effect relation of smoking and cancer. He said doctors should be "open-minded" until there is proof.

DISTURBANCE

Dr. Burgess L. Gordon of Woman's Medical College of Philadelphia said physicians know smoking leads to "a disturbance of the pulmonary structure" and the irritation may lead to cancer.

The specialists took part in a panel discussion of "Cancer of the Lung" at the joint meeting of the Atlanta Graduate Medical Assembly and the Southeastern Surgical Congress at the Biltmore Hotel. Dr. C. C. Aven of Atlanta was a panel moderator.

About 1,500 doctors are attending the medical-surgical meeting which will continue through Thursday.

Dr. del Regato pointed out that primary cancer of the lung in non-smokers is "very rare." He said the great increase in cancer of the lung in this country has paralleled the increase in smoking.

SMOKING LONGER

He said the incidence of lung cancer is greater among men smokers than women smokers because generally men have been smoking longer and because "most women smokers don't know what inhaling means."

Dr. Pack agreed there is "strong" circumstantial evidence linking smoking and cancer of the lung, but he said:

"I haven't heard of anyone producing cancer of the lung by smoking."

He said he believes experiments which show tobacco tar causes skin cancer in mice "proves only that mice shouldn't smoke."

Dr. Pack jokingly suggested a cigarette filter containing a live mouse to absorb the so-called harmful smoke.

MANY TOO LATE

The doctors said surgery is the "treatment of choice" for lung cancer. But they said many lung cancer patients go to their doctors after it is too late for surgery. One specialist said only about 50 per cent of the cases seen by doctors are "operable."

Dr. Elmer C. Bartels of the Lahey Clinic in Boston, Mass., discussed the treatment of gout—"one of the most painful afflictions of mankind."

Dr. Bartels said 95 per cent of the gout patients are male. He said some of the causes are high-fat diets, infections, stress of fatigue and excessive use of alcohol. He said in some cases there is no detectable cause.

Gout may be controlled by diet and drugs, Dr. Bartels said. He said ACTH Gel, cortisone, Benemid and colchicine are drugs which have been used effectively in treating gout.

Dr. William A. Meissner of Boston, Mass., told the Southeastern Surgical Congress that radioactive iodine is beneficial in treating certain types of thyroid tumors.

Dr. Meissner recommended removal of nodules in the thyroid "because they might become cancerous."

Dr. B. L. Shackleford, president of the Fulton County Medical Society, welcomed doctors to the Atlanta Graduate Medical Assembly. Dr. J. Duffy Hancock of Louisville, Ky., president of the Southeastern Surgical Congress, opened the meeting of that group.

More scientific papers will be presented Tuesday.

Mountains Make Trouble Smaller

Everybody ought to have a mountain to climb. A real, physical mountain with steep, rocky paths and little streams cutting across, with the wind soughing in the pines overhead and brambles pulling at your clothes and occasionally your flesh.

Everybody ought to have a mountain to climb because when you've climbed a real mountain the little mental mountains you're accustomed to toiling over seem to dwindle in size.

For a long time we planned to follow an old woods road to its end up where Gilmer and Murray counties meet, but something always interfered—too much weather or too little time. The other day after breakfast we managed it.

Seven of us, counting the two Boatwright boys from down the creek, set out along an old overgrown road which was cut years ago by lumbermen to be used in hauling out the big trees. Brambles and broomsedge have long since taken the road and the little streams, which were once routed across the road in home-made wooden culverts and sometimes the hollow trunk of a giant oak, have escaped such man-made confines and cut themselves new paths. Walking was rough but there were plenty of places to stop and rest and plenty to see in the little rocky waterfalls, the banks of mountain laurel and rhododendron, the browns and grays of a winter landscape. We stopped to rest often, especially when the climb grew steep. And finally when the sun was high we emerged from a cool tunnel of spruce and pine arching over the roadway to a bluff on top of the world.

Only the sky was above us and stretched out all around us were the soft blue-green humps of mountains. The sun was hot on our faces and we shed jackets and spread them on the slope and lounged about resting and trying to pick out familiar objects below—the Boatwrights' cornfield, the old washed-away bridge across Holly Creek, the CCC road and, away off, lacing the side of Fort Mountain like a silver shoelace, the paved road to Chatsworth.

The sun on the pines and spruces filled the air with fragrance and the only sound was the stirring of the wind in the branches around us and the slow, measured creaking of a dead chestnut tree leaning athwart a clump of pines. A solitary hawk soared above us riding an updraft with lazy, effortless grace. The boys, feeling some strang masculine responsibility to take a shot at him, took turns firing their rifles, but in that high place their ammunition gave a faint, Christmas firecracker sputter and exploded harmlessly far below the hawk.

I was glad because it was his place and he had a right to be there. They reminded me of that later when we started down the mountain and I screamed and froze in my tracks at the sight of a snake. I had thought all snakes were winter-locked in their holes but this one—a little yellow-striped fellow—came bowling merrily up the path to meet me.

"It's his mountain, Mother," the children said reasonably, when I begged somebody to kill him. And after he got away I was just as glad. It is his mountain—if he just doesn't grow up and meet me there the next time I go climbing.

Nursing School Turns 50

The School of Nursing of Emory University will celebrate its 50th anniversary April 1 and 2 with a series of special events in connection with Emory's Homecoming activities.

The nursing alumnae will celebrate the occasion with a luncheon, tea, supper dance and banquet.

Featured on the program will be an address on April 1 by Miss Helen Nahm of the National League for Nursing.

Ernest Rogers will preside over the banquet on April 2.

The School of Nursing began as a "training school for nurses" at Wesley Memorial Hospital in August, 1905. Its affiliation with Emory began in 1922.

The first graduating class received diplomas in 1907. One member of the class, Miss Ida Lewis, is still actively engaged in nursing at Emory.

In 1944 the school became an official part of the university and began a four-year program leading up to a degree of bachelor of science in nursing.

Hint for Lent

Seaburgers catch on quickly as a supper favorite for the Lenten season.

Seaburgers
Molded Pineapple and Carrot Salad
Coffee Tea Milk
Spice Cake Squares with Lemon Sauce

SEABURGERS

1 7-oz. can lobster, crab, salmon or tuna	¼ cup mayonnaise
½ lb. process sharp cheese	1 cup minced celery
¼ cup minced onion	2 tsp. salt
¼ cup chopped sweet pickle	½ tsp. pepper
½ cup catsup	2 tbsp. minced pimiento
	12 burger buns

1. Flake drained seafood with fork. 2. Cut cheese into small pieces. 3. Combine seafood with remaining ingredients. Mix well. 4. Split buns crosswise without cutting all the way through, and fill with mixture. 5. Wrap each in foil or stand cut side up in large casserole or roasting pan. 6. Cover and bake at 350 degrees 20 minutes. Serve immediately. Makes 12.

Doctors' Wives Dress Up and Wait

By MARY DENMARK

'Tis said that women dress to please the men.

They read papers and magazines and attend fashion shows.

Tuesday, a group of wives of the medical profession will attend a luncheon and fashion showing of spring clothes at the Brookhaven Country Club.

These women will be, for the most part, wives of doctors attending the Southeastern Surgical Congress and the Atlanta Graduate Medical Assembly. The Women's Auxiliary to the Fulton County Medical Society will be host at the luncheon.

Included among the models in the show will be eight wives of Atlanta doctors.

Mrs. Ted Leigh will model a dress — pink linen trimmed with rhinestones — designed to put in a good appearance at a full round of informal spring parties.

The princess lines are in agreement with spring's long-waisted look. This dress is $25.

Other models will be Mrs. Major Fowler, Mrs. William Crowe, Mrs. Guy Adams, Mrs. Edgar Dunston and Mrs. George Fuller.

But there's a certain amount of irony about a fashion show presented for and by doctors' wives.

They see and succumb to smart spring outfits.

The phone rings.

"Dear, I'm awfully sorry, but it seems that the Smith baby is on the way . . ."

So it's off to the party—solo.

By BETTY CARROLLTON

(One in a Series)

Two receptionists in the business world are more security conscious than most.

Mrs. Mildred H. Williams and Mrs. Eva Loudermilk, receptionists at Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in Marietta, have learned the "screening" art. They make sure ALL visitors to the plant have proper clearance before the visitors are allowed to go beyond the lobby.

"We meet people from all walks of life, from all over the world," they explained. "Each visitor has to be cleared by a department head. We ascertain where they're from, the reason for their visit, locate their host."

"MORE DIGNITY"

Greeting high-ranking military officials ("The higher their rank, the more dignity they have—but they're all dignified"), well-known figures of the entertainment world (including Mary Pickford), delegations from foreign countries (France, Italy, Sweden, Switzerland among them) are all part of a day's work for this duo.

Eva struggled through Lockheed's "growing pains." A native of Marietta, she joined the Lockheed staff in March 1951 as head receptionist.

"At that time," she recalled, "we had four information desks, seven receptionists and eight guides."

Eva and Mildred are the only two receptionists now. Eva maintains the purchasing lobby, receiving and clearing all vendors.

"It's a lot of fun," she chuckled, "even if it's mostly strictly business. The salesmen kid me a lot but through it all there's an element of seriousness—they're here to sell. While we aren't allowed to accept any monetary gifts, they sometimes leave us samples or small gifts.

"We've never been offered a fur coat!" she laughed.

Mildred also went to work for Lockheed in March, 1951. Visitors she greets range from the secretary of defense to Atlantans seeking employment.

Mildred recalled with amusement the visit of a Mr. Smith, who said he had a 10:30 appointment with a Lockheed official.

"No one seemed to know anything about his visit and while we were checking he became increasingly nervous, explaining that it was important that he not miss his appointment. He was more worried about being late than anything else.

CALIFORNIA

"Finally we discovered his appointment was with an official in the Burbank, Calif., plant. I'm afraid he was more than a little late," she said.

Mildred came to Atlanta from Staten Island 18 years ago. She's married to St. Clair Williams, an Atlanta bank teller. They recently completed a new home at 6041 Peachtree-Dunwoody Rd.

"We built it ourselves," she pointed out, "and after we moved in, we had to work six more months to complete it."

Mildred did all the decorating and often helps friends with their interior decoration.

The silvery-haired, brown-eyed matron combined modern with Chinese for the theme of her home. Among her proudest possessions are several Chinese rugs and other imports from Japan and China.

She attends Sandy Springs Methodist Church, is a member of the Tallulah Falls Young Matrons Circle and Junior Group, DAR.

SON AND DAUGHTER

Eva is married to Horace Loudermilk. They have a daughter, Mrs. George Richards, who works in the engineering department of Lockheed, and a son, Ray, 14, a student at Marietta High.

Eva is a member of the First Methodist Church of Marietta, Marietta Woman's Club, Morning Glory Garden Club and the PTA.

She blushingly recalled a visiting delegation representing several foreign countries.

"When I held out my hand," she said, "instead of shaking it, a Frenchman in the group kissed it. Not to be outdone, an Italian followed suit.

"I was completely nonplussed and still haven't lived down my speechlessness at the time!"

BEATING TIME WITH A NEW TYPE LIPSTICK
Kitty Sheffield Makes One Paint Job a Day

Lipstick Stays on 24 Hours

By YOLANDE GWIN

Here's some good news for the menfolks.

Hourly lipstick paint jobs are on the wane.

And what about the smear campaign on cups, forks, towels and hankies?

It's gone, too. A new lipstick on the market is supposed to last 24 hours. And there's no rushing to the powder room to touch up the lips, there's no waking in the morning with lips that look like chalk, and there's no borderline evidence of lip coloring that once was there.

This new lipstick has such a remarkable stay-on power that the color will remain on the lips even after the whole complexion has been given its nightly washing or creaming.

In other words, although the lipstick is removed, the color remains. It stays fresh and vivid all through the day and night, and in so doing it becomes cumulative.

It glides instead of rubs on the lips and requires no blotting. Instead, it should be allowed to set from 10 to 20 minutes to allow the color to penetrate the tissues. Surface "cream" will disappear like magic and the lips will be left the true color of the desired shade.

This lipstick, in six shades, is available in Atlanta. For shopping information call WA. 5050, Ext. 395.

PEANUT PIQUANCY is the theme of this new spring bonnet worn by Mrs. E. M. Kinney and designed for her by her husband. Arranged on a buckram base, the shell-shaped hat is covered with varnished peanut shells ornamented with tiny beads and combined with green velvet leaves. A cut velvet binding adds a dainty touch. Mrs. Kinney is wearing her hat on "special occasions" until National Peanut Week, March 6-12, when she plans to wear it every day.

What Helps People Live Longer?

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Every year a greater number of individuals are living to celebrate their 100th birthday. According to the 1950 census, there were 4,475 people in the United States who were 100 years or more. Probably some of them are still celebrating birthdays, and no doubt many of the 8,645 who were 95 in 1950 have advanced to the centenarian class.

It was interesting to note the newspaper reports of a minister and a colonel, each of whom became the beneficiary of his own life insurance policy upon reaching 96. It wasn't too many years ago when life insurance companies figured 96 as the extreme age anybody was supposed to be around.

Now the standard tables adopted by most companies allow for people living to the possible age of 114. These tables are calculated on the extreme of 114 years for women and 109 years for men. Statistics show that women on the average live five years longer than men. In the 1950 census, of those 100 years and over, 1,825 were men and 2,650 were women.

Of course this doesn't guarantee we're all going to live to be 100! But it does prove that it is not impossible, and that the human machine is capable of reaching 100 without wearing out in any vital part.

What is helping people live longer? Two things—discoveries in medical science, including that branch of medicine called geriatrics which is the science of aging, and the newer knowledge of nutrition. Medical science is adding years to life, and nutrition science is adding enjoyment to the years.

A helpful booklet called "Food Guide for Older Folks" is offered free by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. This booklet makes clear why more repair materials are needed as we get along. If the foods containing these vital nutrients are skimpy in the daily diet, repairs may be shoddy.

Because of lessened activity and lowered metabolism, fewer calories are required in the later years. Therefore a greater proportion of the calories must be in the protective foods—fresh fruits, green and yellow vegetables, milk, lean meats, eggs, whole grains. On the weight score, after middle life, normal weight or slightly under is very important to extending the life span.

Tobe Says

Long, Soft Look Is Back for Hair

Once you get your figure in fashion, it's time to start working on a new hairdo to complete the look.

Yes, hair is changing again. A year ago we all looked like little boys with our short Italian haircuts. Today hair is a little longer and a lot softer, and, I must say, a little more becoming to most women, too.

It's not actually long though—don't make that mistake. Your head should still look small and neat, but hair may be worn soft around the face or in loose up-swept curls.

YOUR STARS TODAY

DAILY GUIDE—This can be rather a tricky period so better let your conscience be your guide. Action taken now could be the wrong kind. You could stir up lots of trouble for yourself, or someone else may do that and you won't be getting the true picture.

Some attempts to deceive or confuse the picture can be tried at this time. Be realistic and keep your feet on the ground (and incidentally keep them dry!).

This is the day of a New Moon in Pisces. Behind the scene secrecy and unfortunate health conditions can be expected. It might be better to hold off the start of any new projects for a day or two, in fact, until the end of the week if you can wait for better conditions.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, PISCES! Just because you are not under any great pressure to solve problems, don't let the grass grow under your feet. There is more smoothness possible this year but you should not be lulled into dreaming things will turn out all right without effort on your part.

During this month, it would have been wise to watch expenses and not jeopardize your savings, investments or security.

ED SULLIVAN

Tracy-Ryan Western Is One of Best

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—One of the most thoroughly interesting pictures I've seen in recent moons is "A Bad Day at Black Rock." The form and the continuity of the drama stem from the fine direction of John Sturges and the expert performances of Spencer Tracy, Robert Ryan and the rest of the talented MGM company.

Tracy, a war veteran who lost his arms in the Italian landings of World War II, stops off at a little desert town. When he reveals that he's looking for Japanese resident of the area, he's struck by the hostility of the cowboys.

He learns the reason for their hostility when he discovers that the Japanese apparently was murdered the day after Pearl Harbor.

Your reporter won't divulge the wonderful switch in the plot but it's divulging no secret to comment that the story illustrates the fearsome things that can happen when decent people surrender their integrity to a bully. The first retreat of decency is fatal. Director Sturges draws the lesson on a small canvas. The nations of the world are plagued by it on an international canvas. From Munich on, we have learned that appeasement can lead to frightful things.

Speaking of bullies in the grand manner, Washington insiders are beginning to believe that the day of reckoning within Russia may be at hand—that the Russian people may be nearing the moment when they will overthrow their Kremlin masters. While this is to be devotedly hoped for, what do we do when it happens?

The problems that would be presented if the Kremlin were overthrown in a Russian rebellion would be enormous. There would be bloodshed, rioting, uncontrolled anarchy that would spread immediately to the Soviet satellite states.

There would be wide-scale urgency for food, medicine and above all, the necessity of trained administrative teams able to speak the language.

Unless we are prepared and willing to let another band of unscrupulous tyrants take over, it would be up to this country and its allies to move speedily and with great certainty. Failing in that, Chinese Communist armies might pour across the borders or perhaps Tito might move in from Yugoslavia. Either of these alternatives would be the substitution of one bad apple for another.

The White House has troubles of its own. This reporter hesitates to suggest to our national planners that the problem he poses also commands priority.

Karloff Turns on The Charm

By JACK GOULD

New York Times News Service Special to The Constitution

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—In some amusing after-dinner asides at a recent meeting of the P.E.N. at Town Hall, Peggy Wood wryly observed one of her problems in the television age is trying to remain Peggy Wood. In the public's mind she was so firmly established as the Norwegian matriarch in "Mamma," she said, that sometimes she felt as if she mislaid herself.

Probably Miss Wood would concede, however, her identification difficulties were rather minor in comparison to those of Boris Karloff. Here is an actor of very real and diverse talents who, longer than he probably cares to remember, has been cast as Boris Karloff, connoisseur of horror and ghoul extraordinary. He might be classed as one of the few performers whose surname has become a synonym.

How silly and short-sighted this abuse of Karloff has been was suggested on Donald O'Connor's show Saturday evening over NBC. For 15 minutes it was Karloff's lot to be back in the usual laboratory with usual corny props. But for much of the balance of the program he was relieved of the chore of being a king-sized menace and finally allowed to play something different.

To be sure, O'Connor and his producing staff did not fully rise to their opportunity. Had they permitted Karloff to have the stage more to himself, they could have been the talk of the coast - to - coast channels this morning. As it was, however, they took a long forward step in the emancipation of Karloff.

Freed of the gobs of makeup, Karloff was not only a strikingly handsome man but an individual of genuinely engaging charm. In one scene he portrayed a wallflower at a lonely hearts club.

VERSATILE—Arlene Francis, pretty television personality, is possibly the most versatile performer on video. She appears on What's My Line, on a soldier talent show as emcee and handles the big Home show on NBC-TV and WSB-TV each day at 11 a.m.

Georgians Skip Toll Road Meet

With the Legislature repealing Georgia's Toll Road Authority at Gov. Griffin's request, the governor and members of the authority did not attend the interstate meeting to discuss toll road development. Members of the Alabama Legislature went to Evansville. "If there are going to be toll roads we want to get in on them," said Sen. Richmond Flowers of Alabama.

PLAYS SERGEANT IN KOREAN DRAMA

William Boyett, above, portrays Sgt. Ferrelli in "The Little Regiment," a sharp-action Favorite Story narrated by Adolphe Menjou over WAGA-TV, Channel 5, at 7:00 tonight. It is the story of Marine Corporals Dolman and Parker, who have been feuding bitterly. When given charge of a machine gun post on a hilltop, they fight each other. The enemy attacks and Parker, wounded and isolated, faces capture. Dolman meets the crisis as the little outpost wavers under Communist onslaught. See the climax of "The Little Regiment," presented by your First National Bank.

A SERIOUS TALK TO PEOPLE WHO ARE DEAD TIRED!

*You may be dangerously taxing your entire system when you allow fatigue, nervousness, poor appetite and sleepless nights to drag you down BECAUSE YOUR BODY IS VITAMIN AND IRON STARVED.

*These symptoms may have other causes or be due to functional disorders.

Do You Know These Facts?

When you lack strong red blood—when your system is vitamin starved you must feel listless—nervous—irritable. This is because weak blood is circulating through your system, taxing your heart—putting a burden on every vein—capillary and artery in your body. This means that vital organs—your kidneys—liver—lungs—and your digestive system are feeling the strain. It is an effort for them to function as nature intended. That's why you get chilled easily—you are too tired to make decisions—too tired to think clearly even about the most simple problem. You are just too tired to enjoy life, and become a drag on your family and friends. If you allow yourself to suffer from iron and vitamin starvation for a prolonged period—think of the damage you may have done to your general health.

Bexel Special Formula is especially important if you are over 40.

As you grow older, be sure you are getting the essential vitamins and iron to keep your strength up, your body functioning properly! With BEXEL Special Formula, the high-potency capsule, you get the blood building and strength-giving factors you may need after 40.

Each high-potency BEXEL Special Formula capsule gives you 5 times the daily minimum requirements of iron; more than the daily minimum requirements of all the B-vitamins that doctors will tell you are essential for proper nutrition; plus Vitamin B12 and trace minerals. These wonderfully strengthening capsules are recommended for mothers-to-be, when a sufficiency of iron and vitamins is vitally important to their health.

Feel Better—Look Better—Work Better OR YOUR MONEY BACK!

Get an economical bottle of BEXEL Special Formula from your druggist. Take 1 capsule daily (2 for double potency). If within 30 days you don't feel wonderfully better . . . your money back in full!

Penny for penny—you get MORE value in high-potency

RADIO REVIEW

by DIXIE BEST

MORTON

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT takes to the air tonight at 9 o'clock for the first of a series of broadcasts over WSB Radio this week.

WSB Sports Editor Ed Morton will be at the microphone to bring you a clear, fast-moving report on this fastest of games. We told you in this column several days ago that Ed and Traffic Manager Ted Hightower had been traipsing around to high school games everywhere practicing up and learning the players, so all is now in readiness.

Broadcasts will begin at 9 o'clock tonight and Thursday and at 7:30 tomorrow and Friday nights. There'll also be a taped delayed broadcast at 11:15 p.m. of the game which is played Friday at 9. On Saturday, there'll be a simulcast on WSB Radio and WSB-TV with Thad Horton and Ed Morton jointly reporting. That Saturday broadcast also begins at 9 p.m.

ART LINKLETTER may have a nice, costly prize to hand out tonight at 8 when his People Are Funny show is heard on Radio 750. Coming back for the program is the man Art sent out several weeks ago to borrow $100 under unusual circumstances. If the gentleman has managed to raise the cash from friends, he'll win an expense-paid trip to one of the finest hotels in Chicago and Miami Beach.

Another highlight of this evening's show will be a quiz contest Art will stage between a man and his boss. The object is to find out which is smarter—and if that employe is REALLY smart, we can guess the outcome, regardless of their IQ's!

LADD

RADIO THEATER tonight will offer a radio adaptation of one of the most exciting movies of recent years—the Academy-Award-winning "Shane." Alan Ladd and Van Heflin will recreate their original screen roles. The part played by Jean Arthur in the firm will be taken by lovely Ruth Hussey in the radio version.

Shane (Ladd's role) is a curious character—a total stranger who rides up one day just as a couple of pioneer Wyoming homesteaders (Heflin and Miss Hussey) are beset by a bunch of unscrupulous cattlemen. He's a tower of strength and stays around long enough to help them out in several life-and-death crises. There's a surprise ending you'll enjoy tonight at 9 on WSB Radio.

Rails Roll Ahead In Seesaw Trade

Carrier Averages at Peak; Aircrafts, Movies Higher

By ARTHUR MERIMS

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—The stock market climbed to new heights today, with railroads supplying most of the power.

Demand for the nation's carriers featured a session that contained much backing and filling and narrow price changes among industrial issues. Most utilities were steady.

Aircrafts, mining stocks, radio-television and motion picture issues tended to improve. Chemicals ended irregular after showing higher prices most of the day. Steels, motors, distillers and department stores were also mixed. Oils favored the minus column.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 20 cents to $160.10, an all-time record. The railroad component was up to 1 at $126.10, a new 1954-55 peak. The industrial component dipped 20 cents while utilities rose an equal amount.

TRADING EXPANDS

Trading expanded to 1,252 issues compared with 1,222 on Friday but volume declined to 3,010,000 shares from Friday's 3,660,000 shares.

Of the issues changing hands, 601 advanced and 421 declined. During the session, there were 130 new highs established and only one new low.

The market opened fast with the tape late for a brief period and prices irregular. Then, the pace slowed and prices seesawed at generally higher levels. There was a modest rally shortly before the close that was mostly offset by profit-taking.

The shakeout in the London Stock Market did not disturb U.S. issues in the least. Most observers here attributed that decline to purely local conditions in England, especially recent weakness in the world price of sterling.

LEADING ISSUES

Second most active was Baldwin Lima up ⅜ at 16¾ on 50,900 shares. New York Central was third up 1¼ at 35¾ on 46,400 shares and Boeing next at 81¾ up 3 on 33,300 shares.

Du Pont declared a quarterly dividend of $1.25 on its common stock compared with $1 a year ago. But stockholders apparently expected more as Du Pont declined 1⅜ at 173.

Here are some other final quotations: U.S. Steel 78 off ⅞, Bethlehem Steel 121 up 1⅜, General Motors 93¾ off ¾, Goodyear 57 off 1¼, Kansas City Southern 75½ up 3, New Haven 33 up 1, Illinois Central 64⅜ up 1⅛, Mullins Manufacturing 24½ up 1⅛, Alcoa 104 up 2½, American Cyanamid 54½ up ⅝, Electric Storage Battery 33⅞ up ⅞, United Aircraft 84¼ up ¾ and Kennecott Copper 111 up ¼.

The American Stock Exchange climbed irregularly as volume dipped to 1,310,000 shares from 1,330,000 shares yesterday. Illinois Zinc advanced 3⅜ at 29⅞ after the company announced plans to merge with Canadian Javelin Ltd. and Boon-Strachan Co. Ltd.

GEORGIA BUSINESS

205 Corporations Started in January

By JIM MONTGOMERY

Here we go again!

That, at least, is the indication from figures on new business incorporations in Georgia during the first month of 1955.

For some 205 new ventures were launched in all parts of the state last month, according to Dun & Bradstreet.

And the 156 new firms chartered in Georgia at that time represented a 40 per cent increase over the 111 recorded during the opening month of 1953.

Let's use 1954 as a point of comparison to find out.

New business incorporations in Georgia last year soared to a record total of 1,696, some 30 per cent more than in 1953.

If that holds true this year, new business formations will rise about 25 per cent to something in excess of 2,120. A very respectable increase.

But there is an important difference between the two years that could work in this year's favor.

The atmosphere at the beginning of 1954 was anything but conducive to a man thinking of opening a new business. A recession had been in the making for nearly six months.

This year, however, dawned bright and clear.

The recession was licked. Unemployment was leveling off. Just about every economic indicator pointed up. There was no time or place for gloom.

If the current trend of confidence and optimism continues to prevail—and every indication is that it will—new business incorporations in Georgia this year should gain well over 25 per cent.

Strangely enough, although Georgia started out the new year with a bang, it lagged behind both the South Atlantic states and the nation as a whole.

The nation counted 13,181 new firms in January, more than 38 per cent ahead of the same 1954 month.

And the 1,955 new incorporations in the South Atlantic states last month were ahead of the year-ago mark by nearly 45 per cent.

$3 Billion a Month Retail

Southern retail stores last year sold an estimated $35.2 billion worth of goods—an average of close to $3 billion a month—the Atlanta field office of the U.S. Commerce Department reported Monday. December sales, it was pointed out, were $300 million over the same 1953 month.

Atlanta stores showing gains last year over 1953 included food, up 5 per cent; general merchandise, up 5 per cent; lumber and building materials, up 3 per cent; tires, batteries and accessories, up 5 per cent; dry goods and general merchandise, up 3 per cent, and household appliances and radios, up 4 per cent.

500,000 Tons of Cans

Southeastern plants last year shipped more than half a million tons of metal cans to market, according to the Commerce Department. Up 2 per cent over 1953, most of the tonnage came from the South Atlantic states.

U.S. Weighs Swiss Trade Concessions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—The United States gave formal notice today it will consider new trade concessions to Switzerland in compensation for tariff increases on Swiss watches.

At the same time it announced its readiness to consider cutting tariffs on some additional 20 million dollars' worth of goods in a deal aimed to help Japan boost its trade with Western countries.

To assist the Japanese, the State Department said the United States is ready to consider granting concessions to third countries if they in turn will reduce tariffs on Japanese goods. As part of this three-way arrangement, Japan would then reduce duties on American goods.

In the new negotiations with Switzerland, requested by the Swiss government, the United States will determine whether to cut duties on some 12 million dollars worth of imports. These include such items as coal tar dyes, instruments, hat braids, handkerchiefs and motion picture cameras.

Coffee Futures

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—Santos coffee futures today were higher on short covering after declining early on liquidation. Interest was curbed by a holiday in Brazil. Roaster buying of green coffee was Limited.

Dry Goods

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—The cotton textile market was quiet Monday. Dealers reported only scattered sales of print cloths and other constructions, mostly of a fill in nature. Offerings of the popular 80 square print cloth at resale lightened, although some goods were still available at 18¾ cents a yard, off ¼ cent from the general mill asking price.

The wool goods market was slow, partly attributed to the approaching holiday on Tuesday. Australian wool markets were steady.

Industrial Area Plans Here Impress NAREB President

The development of Atlanta's several planned industrial districts proved more impressive than anything else to the president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

H. G. Waltemade

Henry G. Waltemade of New York, who has taken part in industrial building in his own state, also declared that the industrial development here compares well with anything he has seen anywhere.

Now on a tour of Southern communities, the new NAREB chief spoke here Monday at a luncheon given in his honor by the Atlanta Real Estate Board at the Capital City Club.

He told the local group that the most important new realty trend in the country is the boom in home modernization and improvement.

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE

But, Waltemade stressed, private enterprise must "show the way" to future home and city improvement.

"We have a more favorable basis for a highly active real estate market than a year ago," he said. "Availability of mortgage financing is more favorable, and all other conditions necessary for a record year are present."

He praised Atlanta's expressway system, calling it an example of the kind of farsightedness that is making Atlanta a great city and the recognized capital of the Southeast.

"Your growth here is actually just beginning," he said.

NEED LARGER AIRPORT

He thinks, however, that Atlanta needs much larger airport facilities. When he arrived from Florida Sunday night, Waltemade said, he was overwhelmed by the great numbers of people coming and going in the "busy, overcrowded" airport.

The New York realtor also said that in order to prevent eventual "price fixation" by the Federal Housing Administration, businessmen should participate in taking some of the FHA insuring risk.

It might be well, he said, for FHA-insuring to take "the top 10 per cent" of the risk, and realtors and other businessmen the rest.

Naval Stores

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 21 (AP)—(USDA)—Georgia-Florida gum naval stores market report: Rosin—domestic and export trading was about equally divided on 729 drum equivalents. Sales, fob plants: Drums, WW 8.35; bags, M 8.00; K 8.02. Export drums, FAS: WW 8.65; WG 8.20 to 8.35, average 8.21.

Trailer-Ship Firm Picks Atlanta Hq.

Atlanta will become the control center for a new cargo service to and from the Caribbean on March 8, when a Miami firm, TMT Trailer Ferry, Inc., inaugurates sailings from Savannah.

Announcement of the plan, which will give Atlanta direct "trailerized" cargo service to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, was made Monday by TMT President Eric Rath.

"We have chosen Atlanta as the location of our movement control," Rath said, "because it will permit centralized supervision of shipping in the entire South.

"With Savannah as the northern terminus of our new service, the center in Atlanta will funnel shipments into the Georgia port from all points in the Southeast, with connecting carrier services extending into the Midwest."

TMT sailings from Savannah to the Caribbean ports will be made every 21 days with a 3,000-ton LST which will accommodate 60 highway trailers and 50 passenger cars, he said.

Within three months, Rath added, TMT will increase sailings to a weekly schedule.

"The lack of sufficient maritime services in the South up to now," he said, "have made it extremely difficult for Southern shippers to tap the rich Caribbean markets. By making Savannah our northern terminus, we will furnish a much needed service to Georgia and to the entire South."

The year-and-a-half-old company, Rath stated, has already designed a trailer-ship capable of carrying 110 trailers and 160 passenger cars, tentatively planned for service within the next 18 months.

Wheat Falls 3 to 5 Cents

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (AP)—A wheat market which has been bending badly for several weeks really broke on the Board of Trade today. Final prices were 3⅝ to 5⅜ cents lower.

The drop in wheat unsettled the rest of the market. Corn and oats suffered from persistent liquidation, with all corn futures except March selling at new seasonal lows. Rye also dropped sharply.

Soybeans were down but they consistently met a better demand than wheat and there was nothing in soybeans even approaching the last-minute rout in the bread grain.

Corn closed 1⅛-1⅝ lower, oats ⅞-1⅜ lower, rye 2¼ to 3 cents lower, soybeans 1¾-2½ lower and lard 2 to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Cotton Rises; Trade Active

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 10 to 55 cents a bale higher today, except current crop July which was off 15 cents a bale.

Trading was active and dominated by extensive switching operations from nearby March to later months. Prices moved in a fairly narrow range until near the close when increased trade buying and short covering in nearby March found offerings limited and led to a brisk rally in the entire list.

Southern Life's 1954 goal of $100,000,000.00 of Insurance in Force was reached with more than $3,000,000.00 to spare. The credit and thanks for this outstanding accomplishment goes to our excellent field force, policyholders, stockholders and friends throughout the Southeast. The year 1954 thus becomes a "red letter" year in Southern Life's history.

INVITATION TO BID

Sealed proposals from general contractors will be received by the State School Building Authority, owner, at 4th Floor, Kemper Building, 41 Exchange Place, S. E., Atlanta, Georgia, as follows:

Until 3:00 P.M., Eastern Standard Time, March 22, 1955, for the construction of RINGGOLD NEGRO ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, WESTSIDE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, RINGGOLD HIGH SCHOOL, BOYNTON ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, LAKEVIEW HIGH SCHOOL, and RINGGOLD ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, all to be located in Catoosa County, Georgia. Bidding documents may be obtained at the office of the architects, BIANCULLI and PALM, 510 Volunteer State Life Building, Chattanooga 2, Tennessee. A combined bid on these projects is also permissible.

Until 3:00 P.M., Eastern Standard Time, March 31, 1955, for the construction of SHIVER ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, BECKBRANCH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, WASHINGTON CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL, and CAIRO HIGH SCHOOL, all to be located in Grady County, Georgia. Bidding documents may be obtained at the office of the architects, SOUTHERN ENGINEERING COMPANY AND HARRY E. ROOS, JR., 1000 Crescent Avenue, N. E., Atlanta, Georgia. A combined bid on these projects is also permissible.

At the time and place noted above, the proposals for each project will be publicly opened and read. No extension of the bidding period will be made.

Applications for documents together with deposit of $50.00 per set per improvement should be filed promptly with the architect. Bidding material will be forwarded, shipping charges collect, as soon as possible. The full amount of deposit for one set will be refunded to each general contractor who submits a bona fide bid upon return of such set in good condition within 30 days after date of opening of bids. All other deposits will be refunded with deductions approximating cost of reproduction of documents upon return of same in good condition within 30 days after date of opening of bids.

Contract, if awarded, will be on a lump sum basis. No bid may be withdrawn for a period of 35 days after time has been called on the date of opening. Bids must be accompanied by a bid bond in an amount not less than 5% of the base bid. Both a performance and a payment bond will be required in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive technicalities and informalities.

STATE SCHOOL BUILDING AUTHORITY,
By GEORGE P. WHITMAN, JR., Chairman.

Cleaning and Lining With Cement-Mortar 36-in. Cast Iron Water Main In City of Atlanta, Georgia
ATLANTA WATER WORKS

Sealed proposals for cleaning and lining with cement-mortar 7,110 linear feet of 36-in. diameter cast iron water distribution mains in place will be received by the City Purchasing Agent, 403 City Hall, Atlanta, Georgia, until 1:00 P.M. Eastern Standard Time on Monday February 28, 1955, at which time Proposals will be publicly opened and read in joint session of the Purchasing and Water Committees from General Council of the City of Atlanta.

The work will consist of furnishing all labor, material and equipment required; shall prepare all surfaces; and shall apply cement-mortar lining to the interior surfaces of the 36-in. cast iron water main to be lined in the City of Atlanta, Georgia, according to the Atlanta Water Works Plans and Specifications.

36-in. main in Fourteenth Street, N. W., and West Peachtree Street, N. W., from east of the Expressway to Eleventh Street N. W.—1,830 feet.

All proposals must be accompanied by a certified check, drawn in favor of the City of Atlanta, Georgia, in the amount of three thousand dollars ($3,000.00), such check representing a guarantee that the successful bidder, if awarded the contract, will promptly enter into a contract and furnish performance bond as required by law and approved by the Attorney for the City of Atlanta, Georgia, in the amount of bid price. This check shall be forfeited to the City as liquidated damages if the bidder fails to execute contract and provide performance bond within ten (10) days after notice that he has been awarded the contract. Each bid submitted shall be accompanied by a written financial statement from a bank or other financial corporation as to bidder's ability to carry out the contract, if awarded to him.

Plans and Specifications may be obtained at the City of Atlanta Purchasing Agent's Office, 403 City Hall, Atlanta, Georgia, or at the Office of Paul Weir, General Manager, Atlanta Water Works, City Hall, Atlanta, Georgia.

The City of Atlanta reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to waive any informality.

Congress Paid Enough, Morse Says, Stalls Vote

Arguments, Amendments Slated, Favorable Ballot Seen Wednesday

By C. P. TRUSSELL

New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—The congressional-judicial pay increase proposals ran into roadblocks in the Senate today. A decision, however, was scheduled Wednesday.

It was expected to be favorable to members of Congress, the judiciary and high and middle-level legislative and judicial officials.

Sen. Morse of Oregon, the principal roadblock, frustrated the Democratic leadership's plan to pass the legislation today. It has been recommended by the Republican administration. The newly declared Democrat threatened an extensive speech to delay balloting until Wednesday. He asserted the Senate should not vote the pay increase without debate.

Party leaders agreed on a vote Wednesday. Debate was limited to 30 minutes on amendments and one hour on passage. The time will be divided equally between advocates and opponents.

TURNED DEMOCRAT

Morse was elected to the Senate as a Republican and later turned independent. Last week he announced that from now on he will be a Democrat.

Many members of Congress are under personal economic stress. It was argued the $7,500-a-year pay increase proposed in the Senate would lift them only to the take-home pay that prevailed in 1939. Last Wednesday the House of Representatives voted, 283-118, to raise its pay by [illegible],000 a year.

Both pay-raise proposal were at least $5,000 under recommendations by a special study commission of spokesmen for most elements of the public economy.

PLANS COLLAPSE

Leadership plans for prompt approval of the House and Senate cutdowns from the recommendations began to collapse early this afternoon. Sen. Bush (R-Conn) said he is heartily for the increases in compensation for the judiciary. He said, however, he thinks congressional pay should be handled separately.

Morse arose soon to support his former Republican colleague. He said that members of Congress are well paid—"paid all they're worth." He added he had heard in the clockrooms that the salary-rise bill was scheduled to be passed today without record votes.

Morse called for a roll-call vote on the Bush amendment. Not enough hands went up to force one.

ACCORD REACHED

He held the floor for about three hours. Then the agreement was reached for another session on Wednesday.

Morse argued that much of the deficits now accrued by senators and representatives stem from the fact that they pay out much of their incomes to keep their offices functioning adequately.

Morse served notice he will offer amendments. Some, he said, would not save money, but would stop members from digging into their salaries to keep their offices functioning. He will seek, he said, to add at least 10 per cent to office allowances.

Husband Accused of Killing Wife For Deferring Second Stork Visit

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—A young husband was accused today of killing his wife in a fit of rage because she insisted on practicing birth control to postpone having a second child.

Police said Thomas Courtney, a 21-year-old Irish immigrant, admitted he grabbed a gun at the height of a bitter quarrel on the subject and shot his wife, Eileen, 20, to death.

He was held without bail on a homicide charge.

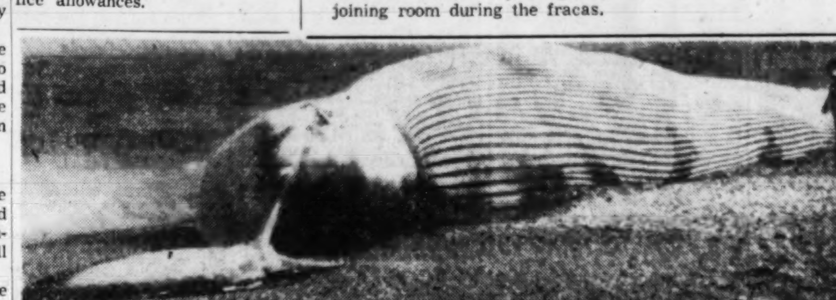

As recounted by police, the couple had been wrangling about how soon they should have another child since shortly after their infant daughter was born 15 months ago.

She wanted to space their children three years apart. Courtney wanted another child as soon as possible.

Early today, after the couple had some drinks together in their Queens apartment, the argument flared into violence.

Police said Courtney tore off his wife's pajamas and struck her; she grabbed him by the throat, then let go and fled into the kitchen.

Courtney seized a loaded gun, police said, followed his wife into the kitchen, and after a few more angry words, shot her. Their baby daughter, Jane Ann, slept in an adjoining room during the fracas.

Statue of Half-Clad Washington To Emerge From Shadows Into Light at Smithsonian

New York Times News Service Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—A massive 1843 statue of a half-clad George Washington is about to emerge from the shadows.

As part of the modernization program at the Smithsonian Institution, the 20-ton controversial statue will be lighted and the wall behind it will be painted blue.

Ever since Horatio Greenough, American-born sculptor, fashioned it in Italy for the Capitol, the 13-foot statue has been the butt of gibes and jokes. This is because it shows a seated Washington bare to the waist.

However, Jacob Kainen, in charge of the modernization of the exhibit room housing the statue, vigorously defends both the sculptor and his work.

"Why pick on this to scoff at when there are some real dillies around the town?" Kainer asks.

The statue really is not Kainen's responsibility. He is the museum's curator of graphic arts. He included the statue in his planning of a modern setting for a graphic arts exhibit merely because it happened to be in the same room. It is there only because the floor is strong enough to hold it.

It belongs in the national collection of fine arts in another building but the floor there is not strong enough.

"Horatio Greenough was one of America's finest sculptors" Kainen declared. "He was also far ahead of his time in his ideas on functionalism in architecture. In fact, his ideas please the moderns very much."

Kainen mentions the 1952 reprinting of Greenough's essays, "Form and Function," by the University of California Press. The introduction by Earle Loran, professor of art at California, says:

"The lesson of Greenough has yet to be learned, especially by many architects who still hold power. What a bitter pill it should be to know that they are at least a hundred years behind the times by standards set up by one of our good ancestors in America."

Kainen, in defending the boldness of the statue, declares:

Sub Blasts Inquiry Set; 5 Men Lost

Rescue Attempts Stalled by Danger

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Navy today ordered an official inquiry into the cause of a series of explosions which killed probably five men on the submarine Pomodon last night.

Three servicemen were known dead. The Navy listed two others as missing and presumed dead. Three other Navy men and two civilian workmen were injured.

The interior of the submarine was damaged extensively by the blasts and by several fires which followed.

The Navy listed the known dead as:

Torpedoman Charles Chester Mattson, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mattson, Pablo, Mont.; Sonar Seaman William Joel Woods, 19, son of Mrs. Georgia Woods, St. Louis, Mo.; Torpedoman Charles B. Bowman, 20, son of Mrs. Laura Bowman, Atlantic City, N.J.

Missing and presumed dead:

Chief Electrician's Mate Carl Donald Barckhoff, 29, husband of Mrs. Alberta E. Barckhoff, National City, Calif., and son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Davis, W. Walnut St., Shawnee, Ohio; Lt. (j.g.) John Hackett, 25, husband of Mrs. Sylvia M. Hackett, San Diego.

Lt. Lloyd L. White Jr., San Diego, multiple fractures and burns, condition critical; Electrician's Mate Carlin J. Cobb, 21, Hayden, Colo., burns on both arms and right leg, condition satisfactory; Sonar Seaman Bobby D. Pulliam, La Mesa, Calif., burns on face and left arm, condition satisfactory.

The civilians injured were Robert E. Williams, Oakland, twisted knee, and Howard Swift, South San Francisco, hand and face burns.

The explosions, beginning about 9:30 p.m. Sunday, occurred in the Pomodon's forward battery well. A Navy statement said they presumably were caused by excessive hydrogen given off by the storage batteries which were being charged.

Ark. House Votes Assignment To Beat Segregation

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 21 (AP)—The House today passed—after three minutes of debate—a bill designed to keep segregation in Arkansas schools.

The bill, which doesn't mention Negroes or segregation, would set up an assignment officer in each school district.

The bill was called up by the author, Rep. Lucian Rogers of Crittenden County.

Only Rep. Elmer Tackett of Garland County spoke against it. Tackett said it was premature and possibly unconstitutional.

The vote for the bill was 58-20. It now goes to the Senate.

An emergency clause, which would have made it effective immediately upon signing by Gov. Orval Faubus, failed by one vote.

Woods Yield Brookhaven Man's Body

A 74-year-old man missing since Thursday was discovered dead Monday morning near Oglethorpe University.

DeKalb County police said they discovered the body of Henry E. Capps in a wooded area off Woodrow Way, North Atlanta.

Capps had been reported missing since Feb. 17. Police said his wife, Mrs. Nina Mae Capps, had last seen him Wednesday at their home, 1633 Candler Rd., Brookhaven.

DeKalb County Coroner E. C. Harvey said an autopsy is being performed at Emory University Hospital. Results will be announced Tuesday morning.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p.m. Tuesday in Prospect Methodist Church, Chamblee. Burial will be in the churchyard.

Surviving are two sons, Thomas E. Capps of Atlanta and Roger Capps of Brookhaven; three daughters, Miss Nina Capps of Brookhaven, Mrs. T. C. Fuller of Clarkston and Mrs. Eunice Wright of Decatur; four sisters, Mrs. Nannie Skinner of Atlanta, Mrs. Effie Plaster of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Mrs. Kizzie Plaster and Mrs. Wasterly Plaster, both of Atlanta; 14 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Son Finds His Mother Dead

Mrs. Mary Beason Brown, 68, of 747 Durant Pl., NE, was found dead Monday, apparently of natural causes, by a son, W. Harry Brown Jr., police said.

The son had gone to his mother's home for lunch and broke open the front door when he received no answer to his knocking, members of the family said. Brown was quoted as saying his mother, a widow, complained of not feeling well recently.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday in the chapel of Awtry and Lowndes. Dr. Paul S. James will officiate. Burial will be in Westview Cemetery.

Surviving are two other sons, C. S. Brown of Atlanta and J. B. Brown of Miami, Fla.; three sisters, Mrs. Jack Smith and Mrs. Ion Almand, both of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Frank Martin of Greenville; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Salvation Army Executives Meet

Salvation Army executive officers from 15 Southern states and Mexico will meet at the Briarcliff Hotel Tuesday through Friday.

The meeting will be conducted by the Southern Territorial Commander, Commissioner William J. Dray of Atlanta.

Sessions are scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. daily.

Sylvan Founders Day

Sylvan Hills High School PTA will present a Founders Day program at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the school auditorium. Students of the school's dramatic club, directed by Miss Elizabeth Denning, will participate.

Boy, 5, Darts To Death in Path of Car

A 5-year-old kindergarten student was fatally injured Monday when he ran from between parked cars into the path of a passing automobile, police said.

Gregory

Gregory Howard Newberry, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin H. Newberry of 1442 LaFrance St., NE, was listed as the city's 13th traffic fatality for the year. Nine were killed in a similar period of last year.

The youth, a pupil in the Whitefoord Avenue School, was the third child killed this year while en route home from school, police records showed. Eleven of the 13 killed were pedestrians, five of them under seven years of age.

Killed This Year, Compared With Nine During Same Period Last Year

Sgt. J. D. Etheridge said the child stopped in a Whitefoord Avenue store to purchase candy and then ran out from between parked cars into the path of an auto driven by Mrs. Jimmie Sparks, 27, of 756 Capitol Ave., SE. Etheridge said Mrs. Sparks, a housewife, was treated at Grady Hospital. No charge was made against her.

Surviving besides the parents are three sisters, Barbara, Brenda and Sandra Newberry, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chastain of Atlanta and J. E. Newberry of Gainesville.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by H. M. Patterson & Son.

Land O'Lakes Club Elects Official Staff

PROTECTIVE COVER

Roscoe Drummond writes in his column on Page 4 that Communist-dominated labor groups are scurrying for the protective shelter of affiliation with the newly merged AFL-CIO labor organization.

OPPORTUNITY FOR YOUNG MAN INTERESTED IN SALES MANAGEMENT

A LARGE national corporation beginning a 2-year expansion program needs 10 qualified young men for management training school beginning March 3rd. Applicants must be available at this time.

OUR managers are provided with office space, office furniture and supplies and a secretary. They have 10-40 salesmen on their staff, depending on the size of the territory. These positions vary from $8,000 to $20,000 annually.

WE HAVE been in business for half a century and have an excellent reputation with our custmers and within the industry.

QUALIFICATIONS:

1. Able to withstand rigid personal investigation.
2. Bondable.
3. Resident of Atlanta.
4. 20-25 years of age.
5. Own an automobile.
6. Willing to work, to fill your ambitions.

ALTHOUGH sales experience is helpful it is not a requirement. If you feel that you can measure up to this outstanding opportunity call Mr. G. S. Douglas at AL. 1556 Monday, Tuesday Feb. 21-22, between the hours of 4 and 8 P.M. only.

WANTED

AGGRESSIVE

SALESMEN

MISHAWAKA Rubber & Woolen Mfg. Co., makers of BALL-BAND (Red Ball) waterproof footwear, Jets tennis shoes and famous BALL-BAND Summerettes offers an unusual opportunity for aggressive salesmen between 25 and 35 years of age, in Georgia and other Southern territories. Guarantee and reimbursement for traveling expenses advanced weekly against commissions. Established customer following plus a quality line backed by national advertising and complete promotion program. Retail shoe background desirable. Thorough training program. Job requires late model car.

INTERESTED applicants may apply to R. E. Kurtz at the Henry Grady Hotel in Atlanta on February 24, between 10 a.m. and 9 p.m.; February 25, between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m.

A LEGAL RESERVE COMPANY

SPECIALIZING in hospitalization offers several men, on a full-time basis, this splendid opportunity if they qualify:

1. Can you live on $85 weekly comm until fully trained? Many of our men make much more from the start.
2. ARE you over 21 and have a car? Age is no barrier.
3. WOULD you be interested in becoming one of our managers after several months? We are a rapidly growing company.
4. WOULD you like to call only on people who have written in to us for information? We do not "cold canvass."
5. WILL you follow instructions? Our company has grown so fast because we have a complete training program.

IF the answers to the above questions are "YES," come in and talk it over with Mr. Wheeler in Room 614 in the 101 Marietta Bldg., or call ALpine 2832, and a personal interview will be arranged.

SILVER DOLLAR DAYS

TUESDAY THROUGH SATURDAY Feb. 22nd—26th

You know the stories about George Washington throwing a silver dollar across the Delaware and admitting that he chopped down the cherry tree. We're going to admit something and throw some dollars, too. The '55 Chevrolets are such wonderful cars we just want everybody to have one, so we've decided to throw some dollars into extra high trades to persuade you to buy a '55 Chevrolet now. We really mean to do business on '55's during "Silver Dollar Days." You can count on a wonderful trade and a wide choice of terms February 22nd through 26th. Come in and let us throw some dollars your way! Large selection of colors.

A Rhyme a Day

"Here is a book on child guidance, new and unique; one which anticipates your need, a ready reference for solving those perplexing problems faced by all young parents."—Advertisement.

The child who has an active mind . . . and isn't ill is sure to find . . . some way to get the thing he wants . . . and that's the sort of thing that haunts—! . . . their parents' dreams, because they know . . . as sure as children thrive and grow . . . they'll skin their heads or break a bone . . . or cut a gash that must be sewn . . . or burn the house while they're away . . . unless they watch them night and day.

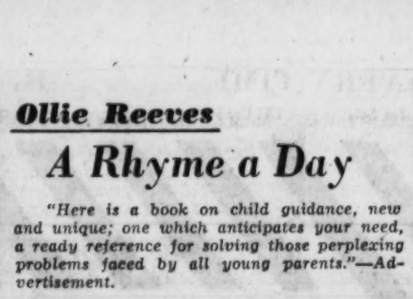

You never can be satisfied . . . about them when they are outside . . . and even when they're home, in bed . . . there is a sort of nameless dread . . . they have contracted some disease . . . for when they run a few degrees . . . above the normal temperature . . . you can't be absolutely sure . . . if it is just a common cold . . . or something worse, and folks grow old . . . I mean much older than their years . . . in battling with these daily fears.

A lot of books have been compiled . . . that tell you how to raise a child . . . and I think they were written by . . . some spinster or some bachelor guy . . . for papa is so occupied . . . with earning money to provide . . . for them he has no chance to write . . . and mama works from dawn to night . . . for she's a housemaid, nurse and cook . . . and has no time to write a book.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE VAN DELLEN

Phobias, Obsessions, Compulsions in Life

A phobia is a greatly exaggerated fear. There are more than 100 varities of phobias including zoophobia (fear of animals), pyrophobia (fear of fire), cancerophobia (fear of cancer), and phobophobia (fear of a phobia).

Once a phobia has taken root, a reaction pattern develops in which the individual tries to avoid situations where his specific fear is likely to arise.

Claustrophobia is one of the better known phobias. The sufferer lives in dread of closed or crowded places such as theaters, elevators, or trains. This is a genuine fear and all signs and symptoms of anxiety exist: Pounding heart, rapid breathing, and excessive perspiration.

These people stay close to home because they are afraid to venture out into the world alone. They avoid crowds, restaurants, social gatherings, and any function from which they cannot escape quickly and with dignity. They refuse to travel by train, subway, plane, or ship and the thought of going through a tunnel sends shivers down the spine.

It is useless to urge these individuals to forget it because they know the condition is silly but can do nothing about it. It is better to leave them alone because poking fun at them or playing tricks will aggravate the phobia and merely create ill feelings.

An obsession may be just as incapacitating as a phobia. The majority of victims are driven to perform a simple duty in a fashion almost bordering on a ritual; they always eat, bathe, and go to bed at the same time and in the same way. Failure to follow a set routine leads to anxiety.

Most obsessions are innocent although they may become so deep as to dominate the mind. In kleptomania, for example, there is no motive for stealing.

The victim may be wealthy and never know what to do with the loot. But stealing a bottle of perfume or a strand of beads when the clerk's back is turned seems to relieve inner tension.

Compulsion is a weak sister of an obsession and usually is observed in childhood. The best examples are the boy who never passes a picket fence without dragging a stick along the slots or the youngster who will not step on the cracks in the sidewalk.

When compulsions persist into adulthood they may take the form of counting passing trains or worrying — on going to bed —about whether the alarm is wound, the door locked, or the dog fed.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Horse Sense Helps In Medical Sense

Hannah S., 20, is engaged to be married.

"I am so upset I don't know what to do," Hannah began.

"My problem is making me miserable, and I am ashamed to tell my fiance about it, for he has always thought I was in perfect health.

"But a doctor told me last week that I had astigmatism in one eye. Well, I was so shocked, I couldn't speak, and I never asked him what to do about it.

"Dr. Crane, can I be cured? Does it require an operation? I'd do almost anything to get rid of it.

"And would I pass it along to my children, if I got married and had a family?"

HORSE SENSE NEEDED

Many of you readers can hardly believe that an intelligent modern girl would be so shocked about astigmatism.

But millions of Americans are woefully ignorant of medical and psychological facts.

The lens is normally of oval shape. But if the oval is slightly flat in one portion, then the light that passes through that eye will not come to a clear focus on the retina.

For that tiny flat spot in the lens will cause a blurred spot on the retina.

WHY WEAR GLASSES

As a result, especially if you do a lot of reading or close eye work, you may get a headache.

For your eye constantly will try to make a perfectly clear image on the retina. Since it doesn't know the lens is slightly defective, it keeps on struggling, and the excessive muscle strain becomes painful.

What's the remedy?

The most simple procedure is to grind a piece of thin glass to fit into a pair of eye glasses. The glass is curved to make up for that flat spot in your human lens, and then the problem is solved.

This, of course, requires you to wear glasses, and many girls, as well as boys, are very much ashamed to do so.

For they think it indicates they are not 100 per cent perfect physical specimens.

PERSONALITY MOSAIC

Don't be so juvenile. There is hardly one perfect physical specimen in thousands of people. Almost everybody has some slight defect.

Either we have fillings in our teeth, or flat feet or astigmatism, etc. But dentists and physicians and optometrists and chiropodists and other doctors can repair our defects.

A popular personality is a mosaic of hundreds of traits and habits. So don't grow alarmed about astigmatism. Wear your properly fitted glasses and then pay compliments to your companions.

Boy friends don't love you just for your eyes or legs or teeth or ears but for the total personality that makes you charming.

A girl can be popular despite glasses, a hearing aid, bunions, and many other minor physical defects, if she will be cheery and bolster the ego of her boy friend with daily sincere compliments.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 club	Pass	1 diamond	Pass
3 clubs	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Five of spades.

It required meticulous care on the part of West to defeat South's ambitious contract of three no trump in today's hand. He handled with precision a combination of cards which does not frequently find its way into print.

There was both a bullish and bearish trend in the bidding. North opened naturally with one club and South made the orthodox response of one diamond. West, though he held strength in both majors, preferred to stay out of the auction in view of the vulnerability. Observe that a spade bid by West, while it would have not led to serious difficulty, would not really have served any good purpose. However, against a slightly different adverse distribution, West might have run onto hard times by participating.

North's jump rebid to three clubs meets with the specification for such a call, but South's bid of three no trump is somewhat on the enterprising side. North's three club bid is, of course, highly invitational but not forcing. But with the assurance of a long minor suit in partner's hand it usually pays to assume an optimistic attitude in this bidding sequence.

West opened the five of spades and when the jack held in dummy declarer immediately dislodged the ace of clubs. The futility of continuing the attack in spades was quite apparent, for declarer had in plain view nine cashable tricks—five clubs, two diamonds, and two spades. The heart shift was therefore mandatory. Obviously, East must be found with the ace of hearts if there was any hope to defeat the contract. On this line of reasoning West might be inclined to lead a low heart. Observe what happens if he does. Dummy plays low, East wins with the ace and returns the suit. West's king takes care of dummy's queen, but West can do no better than cash his jack, while South's ten holds up as a stopper.

West, however, did not become a victim of this pitfall. If East has the ace of hearts, then the king of hearts is just as good a lead as the small one. When the king holds, the low heart lead to partner's ace picks up dummy's queen and East returns his remaining heart. South's ten is caught in a tenace position under West's jack-nine and the defense takes five tricks.

Which Twin Went to Voss?

That's easy. The younger-looking one . . . the one with the hair. They used to be "identical," too. Even had the same hair troubles — tight scalp, dandruff, excess dryness.

But like so many men, the balding twin blamed fate for his hair loss. He kept saying, "If you're going to be bald, you're going to be bald; nothing can be done about it."

The twin the blonde prefers used to be skeptical too . . . but he had sense enough to take his skepticism and his hair troubles to the Voss Hair Experts. Results? Well, he got rid of his skepticism . . . and he still has his hair.

So take a tip

Visit the Voss Hair Experts today for your free scalp examination. Find out in a matter of minutes what's wrong with your hair . . . how soon you can get it back in top condition . . . how little it will cost.

Remember, you can't look young with a bald head. And if your scalp is in bad condition, it's only a matter of time — usually a short time — before you will lose your hair. So see George M. Voss, the nation's most experienced hair expert—NOW.

WINTER PUTS STING ON BEES

Feeding Urged to Prevent Widespread Starvation

So says W. E. Neville, apiculturist with the University of Georgia at Athens.

But many bees facing starvation can be saved, he adds.

"Some bee colonies have already starved and many others likely will starve before the spring nectar flow begins unless beekeepers practice artificial feeding," he said.

He urged beekeepers to examine their colonies.

"If stored honey is found to be low," he said," begin feeding the bees a syrup made of equal parts of sugar and water. Once this artificial feeding is begun, however, it must be continued until plenty of nectar is available.

"This will stimulate brood rearing and build up a working force for the first nectar flow."

Besides honey bees, cold weather affects other insects, it was disclosed by Dr. C. R. Jordan, an entomologist with the service.

"The difficulty in assaying this problem," said Dr. Jordan, "is that insects pass the winter in so many varied ways and places. In addition to weather conditions affecting the percentage of survival, there are other factors. These include moisture, parasitism, predators and insect disease.

"For example, the boll weevil hibernates mainly in woods under surface trash. So he is somewhat susceptible to low winter temperatures.

To help farmers in their fight against the boll weevil, the University of Georgia Agricultural Experiment Stations conduct studies annually in the late fall to determine the number of boll weevils that go into hibernation.

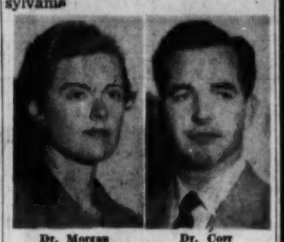

Results of last fall's study, under direction of Dr. C. M. Beckham, entomologist at the Griffin station, showed that only low numbers of boll weevils entered hibernation then as compared with numbers doing so in three previous years.

"This low number is due mainly to the fact that dry weather prevented cotton plants from fruiting during the late summer and early fall. The weevils therefore had no chance to breed in large numbers," he said.

He added that farmers cannot feel too happy about a low weevil population because favorable conditions during June and July can enable a small number of the pests to build rapidly into damaging hordes.

2 Atlantans Get Dental Scholarships

Two Atlanta dentists will attend a postgraduate course in dentistry for handicapped children next month at the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Morgan Dr. Corr

Their scholarships were awarded jointly by Emory and the Georgia Society for Crippled Children. Only 12 dentists throughout the country were accepted for the course.
